NOTIFICATION.

No. 7L.—8th January, 1945.—In continuation of notification No. 1118L., dated the 7th December 1944, published in Part VI of the Calcutta Gazette of the 14th December 1944, the following Notes on clauses on the Banking Companies Bill are hereby published for general information:—

The Banking Companies Bill.

(Published in the "Gazette of India," Part V, dated the 18th November 1944, and in the "Calcutta Gazette," dated the 14th December 1944.)

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

Clause 1(3).—The Bill is confined to companies carrying on the business of banking. It would be impracticable to include within its scope all institutions and individuals dealing in credit in view of the complex credit structure of the country and the fact that moneylending is an item of provincial legislation.

Clause 2.—Except in matters pertaining to banking it is desirable that the Indian Companies Act should continue to be applicable to banking companies.

Clause 3.—It is unnecessary to include co-operative banks, which are governed by special legislation.

Clause 4.—The object underlying this clause is that in cases of genuine emergency, e.g., a general run on all banks or a run on some banks in a particular area, Government should have power to suspend the operation of the Act after considering the recommendations of the Reserve Bank. The suspension of clause 18 will, for instance, enable the Reserve Bank to give an advance to tide over a banking crisis against liquid assets maintained by banks under that clause.

Clause 5(b).—The present definition of banking in section 277F of the Indian Companies Act gives rise to administrative difficulties, particularly in respect of the words "principal business" in determining whether a company comes within its scope. The new definition is intended to connect banking definitely with the acceptance of demand deposits and to confine the scope of the legislation to those institutions in which funds are deposited primarily to ensure their safety and ready withdrawability. It has the further advantage that it automatically excludes non-banking companies which accept only time deposits or borrow money at call.

Clause 6.—Based on sections 277F and 277G(2) of the Indian Companies Act, 1913.

Clause 7.—Sub-clause (1) is considered necessary for the protection of the interests of the depositors while sub-clause (2) merely follows the existing proviso to section 277F of the Indian Companies Act, 1913.

Clause 8.—This is intended to prohibit a bank from engaging directly or indirectly in trading activities and undertaking trading risks in addition to ordinary banking risks. Certain banks have been found to engage in such activities under the guise of agency business.

Clause 9.—It is not intended to prohibit a bank from conducting the management of industrial concerns which it may have acquired in satisfaction of its claims or from taking any other steps necessary in the interests of the bank. The period prescribed should be sufficient for the disposal of such non-banking assets.

Clause 10.—This embodies the new section 277HH added to the Indian Companies Act, 1913, by the Indian Companies (Amendment) Act, 1944, supplemented by a provision disallowing the employment of managing agents under some other name, or on a salary disproportionate to the resources of the bank.

Clause 11.—One of the chief defects of the Indian banking system is the weak and vulnerable capital structure of the vast majority of banks, as evidenced by the fact that during the years 1934-43, no less than 669 banking companies were liquidated or wound up, most of which possessed very poor capital resources. Even the minimum of Rs. 50,000 prescribed by the Indian Companies Act for banks incorporated after the 15th January 1937, is low as compared with many other countries, notwithstanding the lower standard of wealth in India. Another defect in the present banking system is the undue concentration of banking offices in a few cities and towns whereas a very large number of small towns have no banking facilities. Small banks with low capital have also a tendency to open branches in larger towns which have already sufficient banking facilities. Clause 11(1) seeks to remedy these defects.

In the case of banking companies incorporated outside British India, the provisions as regards capital do not afford any real protection; hence the safeguarding provisions of sub-clause (2).

Sub-clause (3) follows the recently enacted section 277I(2) of the Indian Companies Act.

Clause 12.—This reproduces section 277J of the Indian Companies Act.

Clause 13.—This embodies sub-sections (1) and (2) of section 277K of the Indian Companies Act. Sub-section (3) of that section has been omitted in view of clause 18 of the Bill which provides for a general reserve.

Clause 14.—This follows section 277L(1) of the Indian Companies Act except that the prescribed returns are to be filed with the Reserve Bank and not the [illegible]

Sub-section (2) of section 277L, which defines terms "demand liabilities" and "time liabili-", has been removed to clause 5 of the Bill.

Clause 15.—The clause is more or less identical h section 277M of the Indian Companies Act. e words "issued and subscribed share capital" vever have been substituted for the words sued share capital" as the latter term is some- at confusing and is used indiscriminately.

Clause 16.—Past failures of several banks in lia have been due mostly to indiscriminate ances to directors or their concerns. An olute and unqualified ban on such transactions uld, however, result in depriving the banks of advantage of having on their directorate portant and experienced industrial magnates. check is therefore prescribed on advances to ectors and their concerns.

Clause 17.—When the Reserve Bank's original roposals for an Indian Bank Act" were circu- d by Government in 1940, suggestions were ived that a system of licensing foreign banks ng business in British India should be intro- ed. The Banking Enquiry Committee had also mmended that banks should be required to e out licenses from the Reserve Bank, such nses being granted freely to the existing banks. use 17 provides for the licensing of foreign ks intending to open branches in India on the is of reciprocal treatment of Indian nationals companies in the foreign countries concerned.

lause 18.—This clause is an attempt to prescribe law what has already been recognised as sound king practice, viz., that a bank should keep eserve of cash and liquid assets to meet its and liabilities. One of the worst defects of ian banking is the propensity of the smaller ks to overtrade at the expense of liquidity and eems best to insist on all banks maintaining a onably large proportion of their cover in the n of cash or trustee securities as defined in the ian Trusts Act, excluding immovable property. proportion of 25 per cent. is in accordance the actual practice followed by smaller banks.

lause 19.—The failure of a bank incorporated an Indian State, which had the bulk of its osits from British India but the greater part ts assets in Indian States, has brought out the of protecting the interests of British depositors by requiring such banks to a reasonable proportion of their British ability in the form of assets in British Export bills are included in such assets w to helping Indian exports.

20.—The existing return under section Reserve Bank Act applies only to banks and also omits important details tments. For an adequate control of development, it is necessary that the Bank should have a full picture of the ituation of the country through periodical assets and liabilities.

21.—The intention in prescribing an turn of deposits which remain unclaimed rs is to enable the Reserve Bank to have sary data for consideration of the question deposits remaining unclaimed for a l period should be transferred to Govern- king it responsible for meeting any claim ay be established in future. Similar re called for, in the banking legislation of and it is provided there that after the a certain period of years the deposits will ver to Government.

22.—The form F laid down by the Com- ct is meant for companies in general and uited to the special requirements of bank- panies. Many of the smaller banks publish their balance-sheets in different forms and there is no uniformity of presentation. The banks also close their books on different dates making it difficult to have a picture of the banking situation of the country as on a particular date. The Central Banking Inquiry Committee, which considered this question in detail, recommended a separate form for banking companies. As regards banks incorporated outside British India, there is no provision in the Companies Act for the publication of separate balance-sheets of their Indian business. In Forms A and B of the Schedule to the Banking Companies Bill, an attempt has been made to provide a form of balance-sheet and profit and loss account specially suitable for banking companies.

Clause 23.—This provides for the audit of the statements prescribed under clause 22.

Clause 24.—At present, some of the banks publish their balance-sheets after a considerable period from the date to which they relate so that the position of the banks remain unknown for an unduly long period. The clause remedies this defect.

Clause 25.—This follows section 17 of the Insurance Act, 1938.

Clause 26.—There is no provision in the Indian Companies Act for the publication of balance-sheets by banking companies incorporated outside British India similar to that contained in section 136 applicable to companies incorporated in British India. This clause provides for uniformity of treatment as regards the publication of balance-sheets.

Clause 27.—This provides for the period of transition and follows section 17A of the Insurance Act, 1938.

Clause 28.—The opinions received on the Reserve Bank's "Proposals for an Indian Bank Act" circulated in 1940 revealed that public opinion was generally in favour of the inspection of banks by Government or the Reserve Bank. In view of this and in the light of the experience gained by the Reserve Bank in connection with the inspection of banks for the purposes of section 42(6) of the Reserve Bank Act, and in view of possible post-war developments, provisions have been made for the inspection, in certain circumstances, of a bank's books by the Reserve Bank at the instance of the Central Government. A regular system of inspection of all banks does not seem practicable and provision has therefore been made for inspection only where necessary in the interests of depositors. Sub-clause (1) generally follows the lines of section 33(1) of the Insurance Act, and sub-clauses (2) and (3) enumerate the various corrective measures which the Central Government may take.

Clause 30.—This clause is a modification of section 277N of the Indian Companies Act, the period of moratorium having been limited to three months. It is the intention that the report under sub-clause (2) should be submitted by the Reserve Bank.

Clause 31.—The provisions of the Indian Companies Act in respect of liquidation do not seem to be suitable for banking companies. A bank's business is conducted on an over-the-counter basis and it is important that current accounts should be withdrawable at any time and drafts, etc., should be honoured on presentation; otherwise great business dislocation is likely to result. A provision has, therefore, been made under this clause for the winding up of a banking company if it refuses to meet a lawful demand for payment at one of its offices or branches within two working days, if such demand is made at a place where there is an office or branch or agency of the Reserve Bank, or within four working days, elsewhere. The clause also authorises the Reserve Bank to apply for the liquidation of a banking company if it appears from the results of an inspection made under clause 28 that its affairs are being conducted to the detriment of the interests of its depositors.

Clause 32.—Experience has shown that the cost of liquidation proceedings under the Indian Companies Act is high. It has, therefore, been provided in this clause that the Reserve Bank should be empowered to carry out liquidations so that unnecessary expense and delay in liquidation proceedings may be avoided, and that the assets may be realised as speedily and cheaply as possible in the interests of the creditors.

Clause 33.—This limits the power of the Court to stay proceedings to cases in which it is satisfied that the depositors can be paid in full.

Clause 34.—The period prescribed under section 177B of the Indian Companies Act for the submission of a preliminary report by the official liquidator is too long in the case of a banking company and the clause is intended to remedy this defect.

Clause 35.—In the case of a banking company, rapidity in liquidation is essential if the assets are not to grow cold or to be dissipated. The provisions for calling meetings of creditors to discuss arrangements or to appoint an advisory committee to work with the official liquidator should heretofore, be rescinded in the case of banking companies unless the Court considers that this should be done.

Clause 36.—This simplifies the formalities for depositors proving their debts.

Clause 37.—It has been found that banking companies in a shaky condition take advantage of the voluntary winding up proceedings under the cover of a merger, or manipulate such proceedings to the disadvantage of the depositors who are a scattered body and are unlikely to take concerted action. The clause is intended to prevent such abuses.

Clause 38.—This empowers the Central Government to make regulations under the Act after consultation with the Reserve Bank.

Clause 39.—This is a consequential amendment.

Clause 40.—Repeals.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

New Delhi, the 24th January 1945.

No. 107-I/45-A.—Under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules, the Governor-General has been pleased to order the publication in the Gazette of India, of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, and the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly published for general information:—

L. A. BILL No. 1 OF 1945.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Tea Control Act, 1938.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Tea Control Act, 1938 (VIII of 1938), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Indian Tea Control (Amendment) Act, 1945.

2. Amendment of Schedule, Act VIII of 1938.—In the Schedule to the Indian Tea Control Act, 1938, in paragraph 1—

(a) for the proviso to clause (a), the following proviso shall be substituted, namely:—

"Provided that any allowance made in respect of young areas which has already been included in determining the cardinal crop basis of the estate shall be deducted.";

(b) for the proviso to clause (b), the following proviso shall be substituted, namely:—

"Provided that any allowance made in respect of low producing areas which has already been included in determining the cardinal crop basis of the estate shall be deducted."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The provisos to clauses (a) and (b) of paragraph 1 of the Schedule to the Indian Tea Control Act, 1938, as they are worded at present provide that any 'young area' or 'low producing area' in respect of which an allowance has been included in the cardinal crop basis (i.e., the highest crop basis assigned in any one of the years 1940-41 to 1942-43) of the estate shall be excluded in computing allowances to be added to it. These provisions are defective inasmuch as they exclude 'young area' or 'low producing area' in respect of which allowances have been made in determining the cardinal crop basis from receiving any further benefit even if ordinarily admissible and render ineffective the benefits contemplated by rule 4(b) of the Indian Tea Control Rules, 1930, the proviso to which has been amended recently to have the effect of increasing the allowances of some young areas planted between 1st April 1938 and 31st March 1941. It is, therefore, proposed to amend suitably the provisos to clauses (a) and (b) of paragraph 1 of the Schedule to the Indian Tea Control Act, 1938.

PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

New Delhi, the 26th January, 1945.

No. F. 108-I/45-A.—Under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules, the Governor General has been pleased to order the publication in the Gazette of India, of the following Bill, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons relating thereto, and the Bill and the Statement of Objects and Reasons are accordingly published for general information:—

L. A. BILL No. 2 OF 1945.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Companies Act, 1913.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Companies Act, 1913 (VII of 1913), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Indian Companies (Amendment) Act, 1945.

2. Amendment of section 282B, Act VII of 1913.—To section 282B of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(6) Nothing in sub-section (2) shall affect any rights of an employee under the rules of a provident fund to withdraw money standing to his credit in the fund."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Sub-section (2) of section 282B of the Indian Companies Act, 1913, provides that where a provident fund has been constituted by a company for its employees, all moneys contributed to such fund shall be either deposited in a Post Office Savings Bank account or invested in trust securities. The sub-section was not designed to preclude the withdrawal by an employee, in accordance with the rules of the fund, of money standing to his credit therein; but certain Registrars of Joint Stock Companies have held that the sub-section has the effect of prohibiting such withdrawals. This view is not only contrary to the intention but is destructive of the normal operation of all provident funds maintained by companies. It is proposed to amend the section so as to displace this view.

(3) Where any officer other than the Collector proposes to examine under sub-section (2) any record or account containing the description or formulae of any trade process, the owner of the mill may give to the said officer, for transmission to the Collector, a written notice of objection and the officer shall thereupon seal up the record or account pending the orders of the Collector.

(3) If any item is disallowed, an appeal shall lie to the Central Government whose decision shall be final.

16. Dissolution of Committee.—The Central Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, declare that, with effect from such date as may be specified in the notification, the Committee shall be dissolved, and on the making of such declaration all funds and other property vested in the Committee shall vest in His Majesty for the purposes of the Central Government and this Act shall be deemed to have been repealed.

17. Power of the Central Government to make rules.—(1) The Central Government may make rules for the purpose of carrying into effect the provisions of this Act.

(2) In particular and without prejudice to the generality of the foregoing power, such rules may provide for all or any of the following matters, namely:—

(a) for prescribing the time within which nominations or elections shall be made under section 4 whether in the first instance or on the occurrence of vacancies;

(b) for prescribing the term of office of the members of the Committee,

(c) for prescribing the circumstances in which and the authority by which any member may be removed;

(f) for the maintenance by the Committee of a record of all business transacted and the submission of copies of such records to the Central Government;

(g) for the definition of the powers of the Committee to enter into contracts which shall be binding on the Committee, and the manner in which such contracts shall be executed;

(h) for the regulation of the travelling allowances of members of the Committee and of their remuneration, if any;

(i) for the definition of the powers of the Committee, in respect of the appointment, promotion and dismissal of officers and servants of the Committee, and in respect of the creation and abolition of appointments of such officers or servants;

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

India is one of the world's principal producers of oilseeds. In view of the importance of oilseeds in the national economy, it is considered necessary to put oilseeds research, development and technology on a more permanent basis than it is at present. Accordingly it is proposed to set up an Indian Central Oilseeds Committee on the lines of other similar commodity committees such as the Indian Central Cotton Committee, the Indian Lac Cess Committee. The Committee which will have on it representatives of all the important interests concerned, will devote exclusive attention to all problems connected with the improvement and development of the cultivation and marketing of oilseeds, the production and marketing of their products and all matters incidental thereto. Since it is desirable that the Committee should have an independent source of income, it is proposed that as in the case of other similar Committees, funds should be provided by the levy of an excise duty at the rate of one anna per maund of oilseeds crushed in power-operated mills in British India.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill* was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 26th March 1945:—

L. A. BILL No. 10 OF 1945.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Army Act, 1911.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Army Act, 1911 (VIII of 1911), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Indian Army (Amendment) Act, 1945.

2. Amendment of section 114, Act VIII of 1911.—In section 114 of the Indian Army Act, 1911,—

(a) after rule (6), the following rules shall be inserted, namely:—

"(7) Where the deceased person or deserter is an Indian commissioned officer on active service, the references in the foregoing rules to the commanding officer shall be construed as references to the Standing Committee of Adjustment, if any, appointed in this behalf; and the power conferred by rule (2) to require payment of a deposit left in a Government savings bank shall be read as a power to require the payment from any deposit left in any bank, notwithstanding anything in the rules of the bank, of a sum, not exceeding two thousand five hundred rupees, equal to the nearest multiple of one hundred rupees above the amount estimated by the Standing Committee of Adjustment as necessary to meet the regimental and other debts in camp or quarters of the deceased.

(8) The decision of the commanding officer or the Standing Committee of Adjustment, as the case may be, as to what are the regimental and other debts in camp or quarters of a deceased person and as to the amount payable therefor shall be final.";

(b) the existing Explanation shall be numbered Explanation 1 and the following Explanation shall be added, namely:—

"Explanation 2.—The expression 'regimental and other debts in camp or quarters' includes for the purposes of this section money due as—

(1) expenses of last illness;

(2) military debts, namely, sums due in respect of, or of any advance in respect of—

(a) quarters,

(b) mess, band, and other regimental accounts,

(c) military clothing, appointments and equipments, not exceeding a sum equal to six months' pay of the deceased, and having become due within eighteen months before his death."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The object of the amending Bill is to ensure the speedy disposal of the moveable property in camp or quarters of Indian Commissioned Officers dying or deserting while on active service. Under the procedure now in force the disposal of such property devolves upon the Commanding Officer. His duty is to secure all the moveable property that is in camp or quarters and to realise any pay and allowances due; he may also, if he thinks fit, realise a deposit not exceeding one thousand rupees which has been left in a Government Savings Bank. If a representative of the deceased officer gives security for the payment of the regimental and other debts in camp or quarters, the Commanding Officer delivers all the moveable property received by him to that representative. Otherwise the Commanding Officer sells the moveable property and pays these debts, handing over the surplus, if any, to the representative of the deceased officer. In conditions as they exist at present the Commanding Officer is normally engaged with operational commitments and his unit is often on the move. He is therefore unable to devote adequate time and attention to the disposal of property. In order to avoid unnecessary delays it is proposed to relieve him of this duty and to set up an expert body, a Standing Committee of Adjustment.

2. Provision is also made for the withdrawal by the Standing Committee of the deposit left in a bank by the deceased officer up to Rs. 2,500. The existing limit of Rs. 1,000 has been found in several cases to be insufficient to cover the debts left by the deceased officer.

3. Opportunity has also been taken to define the expression "Regimental and other debts in camp or quarters".

30. Orders of the Board on Auditor's Report.—The Board in general meeting shall consider the reports of the auditor and satisfy itself that no expenditure shown therein has been incurred otherwise than in accordance with the provisions of this Bill and shall pass such orders as are in its opinion necessary and proper to rectify any illegal, unauthorised or improper expenditure and may pass such further orders upon the reports as it may deem proper.

31. Auditor's fee.—The Board shall pay to the auditor fee and other charges out of the Fund maintained by it.

32. Public inspection.—It will be the right of every member of the Sikh residents of the Delhi Province to apply for and inspect at any time after due notice to the Secretary of the Board of any other Committee any books of account, vouchers, stock books or other books of the Board or any of the committees constituted thereunder. The Secretary will ordinarily allow all such inspections but if in any circumstances he does not think it to be in the interests of public good that such an application be allowed he shall place it before the executive sub-committee the decision of which shall be final in the matter.

33. Meetings.—Meetings of the Board and all committees shall be either ordinary or urgent. ordinary meetings will be called by the Secretary on giving at least ten days' clear notice to all the members. Notices of the meeting shall contain the agenda for the meeting and must be addressed to the last known address of the member and sent either in a peon book or by post under a certificate of posting or under a registered cover. Urgent meetings can be called by the Secretary by giving three days' notice to all the members. If at any time the Secretary does not call a meeting at the request of any one or more members it will be lawful for such members to request the Secretary in writing to convene a meeting for some specific purpose and on the rejection of such an application by the Secretary such members may join hands to call a meeting themselves only if the number of the members convening such a meeting exceeds forty per cent. of the total number of the members of the Board at that time.

34. Travelling expenses.—Ordinarily members of the Board will not be expected to charge the Gurdwaras for minor travelling expenses. But they will be eligible to take travelling allowances in accordance with such rules that may be framed in this behalf by the Board.

35. Changes in rules.—Subject to the provision of this Bill the Board may frame bye-laws at a general meeting for the working of all the Committees and the Board and such bye-laws shall be published for general information. Any change in any of the rules shall be made only in such manner as the rules themselves may have been framed and all such changes shall not take in final shape unless approved of by the Board of Management.

36. Miscellaneous.—No person who is in any way related to any Member of the Board or any office holder of any of the committees constituted thereunder shall at any time be eligible to or seek any employment under the Board or in any of the Gurdwaras under any of the committees constituted under this Act. This shall not apply to any person who is in such employ before such a member is elected or nominated to the Board or the committees.

37. Resignations.—Resignations of any of the members or office bearers of the Board or committees shall be accepted or rejected by the Board or the committee concerned and filled up in such manner as the original member was appointed to the Board or Committee.

38. Existing arrangement.—The existing arrangement regarding the detailed management of the several Gurdwaras in the Delhi Province by Sat Sang committees or local committees shall be interfered with in the least possible manner so as to bring it in consonance with the provisions of this Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There is a large number of historical Sikh Gurdwaras which are most sacred to the Sikhs throughout the world and to some of these there is sufficient immoveable property. There is now widespread dissatisfaction with the management of Gurdwaras all over the Province and the Punjab. Legislation is taking place in each part of India to bring under proper control the income and properties of Religious Endowments with a view to expend the money to the best interests of the community to whom the same belong. In Delhi too, legislation has taken place with regard to the Muslim Wakf properties. Having considered all the materials and the pressure put upon by the public from time to time, it is considered desirable to introduce this Bill which if passed into law will meet the wishes of the public as it will ensure proper superintendence, maintenance, control and administration of the Endowments.

"and the officers authorised by the Central Government referred to in section 11 and sub-section (1) of section 14".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The Bill is intended to prohibit the employment of women below ground in mines when in an advanced stage of pregnancy and to grant maternity benefit to those women workers who are so prohibited

In 1943 a great shortage of labour for employment in coal mines became noticeable, and coal raisings were seriously affected to the serious detriment of the war effort of the country It therefore became necessary temporarily to remove the ban on the employment of women below ground in coal mines in the major coal areas. The measure is of a purely emergent and temporary nature and the ban will be reimposed as soon as conditions permit. Employers are already prohibited from employing in mines women for 4 weeks after delivery and women are entitled to benefit for 4 weeks before and after delivery. The removal of the ban on the employment of women below ground makes it necessary to extend the period of prohibition in the case of women working underground and to arrange for payment of benefit over a longer period. The Bill therefore proposes to prohibit the employment of women below ground for a period of 10 weeks before confinement as an addition to the present prohibition of employment for four weeks after confinement and to make the woman eligible for benefit for a period of ten weeks before expected date of confinement. It is also considered necessary to have powers to vest any specified official with the powers at present exercised by the Chief Inspector of Mines and the Inspectors of Mines only under the Mines Maternity Benefit Act, 1941. The Bill is intended to provide for this also.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 12th April 1945:—

L. A. BILL NO. 17 OF 1945.

A Bill to provide for the protection of technical personnel in industries.

WHEREAS it is expedient to provide for the protection of technical personnel in industries;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title and extent.—(1) This Act may be called the Technical Personnel Protection Act, 194

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

2. Definition. For the purpose of this Act—

"Technical personnel in industries" shall mean persons employed in all industrial concerns by virtue of their technical training or scientific education or both, such as, chemists, physicists, metallurgists, engineers and others of similar education and training.

3. Power to make rules and regulations and to prescribe punishment for infringement thereof. The Government of India shall provide for the protection of the technical personnel in industries by making rules and regulations in all matters affecting the interests of such personnel, including, cadres of pay with bonuses, etc., and other conditions of service including security and fixity of its tenure as well as recognition, appreciation and encouragement of invention, originality and initiative; and by enforcing such rules and regulations by making their infringement legally punishable

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

This measure is intended to put our industri progress on a stable basis and to make such pr gress not only steady and continuous but mo indigenous and popular. The technical personn in industries, which consists of chemists, physicist metallurgists, engineers and such others, is n less in importance than capital and raw materia It is moreover different from ordinary skilled unskilled labour. In the majority of our indu trial concerns in India this technical personnel uncared for, if not unfairly treated. Indi industries thrive in protection. The comparati inefficiency of our Indian industries is main due to the lack of initiative on the part of o technical men and experts for proper endeavo and research for improvements and invention If the genius skill and knowledge of technical a scientific men are not carefully nursed a properly utilised by providing for them requisi scope and conditions of service, it is right apprehended that our industries will never be ab to stand on their own legs in open competition the world and look for protection even after t war and that for an indefinite period.

PART VI—Bills introduced in the Council of State and Legislative Assembly, Reports of Select Committees presented to the Council and Assembly and Bills published under Rule 18 of the Indian Legislative Rules.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

Legislative Assembly Department.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 12th April 1945:—

L. A. BILL No. 21 OF 1945.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (V of 1908), for the purposes hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 1944.

2. Amendment of Section 103, Act V of 1908.—To section 103 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (V of 1908) the following shall be added, namely:—

"or of which the determination by such courts though not vitiated by such illegality, omission, error or defect, has in the opinion of the High Court, been plainly erroneous, perverse or unjust".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 100 of the Code of Civil Procedure deals with the grounds of Second Appeal in civil suits. The grounds given there are as follows:—

(a) The decision being contrary to law or to some usage having the force of law;

(b) the decision having failed to determine some material issue of law or usage having the force of law;

(c) a substantial error or defect in the procedure provided by this code or by any other law for the time being in force which may possibly have produced error or defect in the decision of the case on merits.

Section 103 defines the powers of the High Court in Second Appeals. According to this section the High Court may in the Second Appeal determine any issue of fact—"which has been wrongly determined by such (lower appellate) court by reason of any illegality, omission, or error or defect such as is referred to in Sub-section (1) of Section 100". Thus by reading the two sections together we find that the restrictions imposed by Section 100 of the Criminal Procedure Code are binding not on a party to the appeal but they restrict the power of the High Court as well. This restriction has been clearly appreciated by their Lordships of the Privy Council. They in 929 A.I.R., P.C., p. 1521 approved of the observation made by the Judges of the Calcutta High Court reported in 18 Calcutta L.R., p. 25.

"It is enough in the present case to say that an erroneous finding of the fact is a different thing from the an error or defect in proceeding and there is no jurisdiction to entertain a Second Appeal on the ground of erroneous finding of fact however gross or inexcusable the error may seem to be". The Learned Judges of the Calcutta High Court used the words "however gross or inexcusable the error may seem to be", but if we were to use the word "however gross or inexcusable the error may really be", the jurisdiction of the High Court would not be extended. This is an anomaly. The High Court of Justice unable to put right a palpable wrong committed by courts subordinate to itself, is a position which cannot be justified on any principle. This is so even if the trial court has decided the matter correctly and it is the lower appellate court who has committed the mistake. In case of the First Appeals which are heard by the High Court, if the judgment of the trial court is upset, an appeal lies to the Privy Council on a question of fact also, and even in cases in which the High Court confirms the decision of the trial court, the powers of the Privy Council are not so restricted and Section 112, C.P.C., gives them sufficient power to deal with the matter at their discretion. But so far as Section 100 is concerned, it does not make any difference even on that basis. There is an evident difference between a finding of fact arrived at concurrently by two courts and a finding in which the lower appellate court has differed from the first court. One must attach great sanctity to the decision of the trial court on facts, because it had the advantage of recording the evidence and watching the demeanour of the witnesses, but the same sanctity cannot be attached to the judgment of the First Appellate Court when it chooses to set aside the finding of the trial court. There is little difference between the first and second appellate court on this count, and if there can be difference it is that generally the second appellate court is more efficient and experienced than the first one. As pointed out this principle is recognised in appeals to the Privy Council. On a smaller scale this principle has been recognised even by the U. P. Land Revenue Act, Section 210 of which allows Second Appeals on the ground that "the original order has in appeal been varied, cancelled or reversed".

In 1939 I introduced a Bill in the Assembly in which I sought an amendment of section 100, C.P.C., by the addition of the following to sub-section (1)—

"(d) the original decree of the trial court having in appeal been varied, cancelled or reversed:

Provided that a High Court while hearing a second appeal on any of the grounds (a), (b) or (c), may in its discretion determine the correctness or otherwise of the decision on points of fact also, if it thinks that the decision of the court below is erroneous or unjust."

In the Statement of Objects and Reasons of that Bill I traced the whole history of the Second Appeals, and the reasons for restrictions and the way in which the rigour of the law had been softened by the High Courts in actual practice. But this depends upon the temperament of the individual judges and is a factor that cannot be relied upon. That Bill was circulated for eliciting opinion. The public opinion was overwhelmingly in favour of the Bill but the majority of the High Court Judges and the Government were against the Bill mainly on the ground that the amendment sought for would increase the work in the High Court. So I did not proceed further with the Bill, and want to introduce this as a measure of compromise, by which I mean to give no additional rights to the parties to an appeal but only remove an undue restriction on the powers of the High Court. This it is expected would help the administration of justice to some extent without increasing the amount of work.

L. A. BILL No. 14 OF 1945.

A Bill further to amend the Aligarh Muslim University Act, 1920.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Aligarh Muslim University Act, 1920, for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title.—This Act may be called the Aligarh Muslim University (Amendment) Act, 19 .

2. Amendment of Section 5, Act XL of 1920.—After sub-clause (b) of clause (3) of section 5 of the Aligarh Muslim University Act, 1920, the word "or" shall be inserted, and the following new sub-clause shall be inserted, namely:

"(c) in case of examinations conducted by the Faculty of Theology shall have pursued a course of study in an institution."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

There exists at present a great desire among the Muslims that the Aligarh Muslim University like the Benares University should conduct examinations in Theology and permit the students who have prosecuted their courses of studies in recognised Theological Institutions to appear in the examinations. The scope of sub-clause 5(3) is extended by this amendment to permit the students of Arabic Schools to appear in Theology Examinations conducted by the Aligarh Muslim University.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 12th April 1945:—

L. A. BILL, No. 15 OF 1945.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act V of 1908), for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Code of Civil Procedure (Amendment) Act, 19 .

(2) It shall come into force from the date it receives the assent of the Governor General of India in Council.

(3) It extends to the whole of British India.

2. Amendment of Section 54, Act V of 1908.—At the end of section 54 of the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act V of 1908), the following shall be added:

"and the Collector or any Gazetted subordinate, so deputed shall comply with the requirements within a period not more than 12 months from the receipt of the proceedings for partition."

3. Amendment of Rule 1 of the Third Schedule, Act V of 1908.—At the end of rule 1 of the third schedule to the Code of Civil Procedure, 1908 (Act V of 1908), the following proviso shall be added:

"Provided that subject to all the rules and procedure of this schedule or any other law in force in British India for the time being, every sale required to be made by the Collector or his subordinate, in execution of the decree, transferred to the collector under section 68 of this Code, shall be made within a period not exceeding 12 months from the date of the receipt of the decree for execution."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

At present making of partition and executing the decrees by the collector and his subordinates are delayed inordinately and in various cases they are delayed for years on end.

This is an abuse of process and is most detrimental to the interests of the parties. After transferring the decrees or directing partition courts feel themselves helpless to have the partition done or decrees executed expeditiously, since there is no statutory time limit within which the collector should perform the needful executions. Therefore they remain pending for years, frustrating the very object of them.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 12th April 1945:—

L. A. BILL No. 20 OF 1945.

A Bill further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898) for the purpose hereinafter appearing:

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short title, extent and commencement.—(1) This Act may be called the Code of Criminal Procedure (Amendment) Act, 19 .

(2) It extends to the whole of British India.

(3) It shall come into force at once.

2. Amendment of Section 14, Act V of 1898.—(1) In section 14 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898 (Act V of 1898), in sub-section (1) after the word "may", the words "with the previous consent of the High Court" shall be inserted; and

(2) After sub-section (4) the following sub-section shall be added, namely:

"(5) No person shall be appointed by any Provincial Government an Honorary or Special Magistrate of any class or shall remain in office against whom there has been a final finding of a Judicial Court of his having been corrupt or of his having the reputation of being corrupt or in the habit of deciding cases dishonestly."

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

Section 14 of the Criminal Procedure Code was enacted at a time when there were no autonomous Provincial Governments and the Government of India Act of 1935 was not passed. Magisterial powers are Judicial Powers under the general supervision of the Honourable High Court in a province and this Court is primarily responsible to give Kings justice to the people. In a recent case, Criminal Revision No. 1678 of 1943, the Honourable the High Court, Punjab, Lahore, declared an Honorary Sub-Judge (Rai Bahadur Pandit Shridutt) to be corrupt and having the reputation of being a corrupt Honorary Sub-Judge and deciding the cases of his own relations and friends with dishonesty. Consequently upon this judgment of the High Court the said Honorary Sub-Judge had to vacate his office as Honorary Sub-Judge. In utter defiance and disrespect of the findings of the High Court of the Punjab the Provincial Government of the Punjab conferred upon the said Rai Bahadur Pandit Shridutt powers of an Honorary Magistrate of the second class thereby giving him greater scope to extend his corrupt practices.

In view of the above instance and other considerations the amendment of section 14 of the Criminal Procedure Code as pointed out in the Bill is necessitated.

The following Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly on the 12th April 1945:—

L. A. BILL No. 18 OF 1945.

A Bill further to amend the Indian Penal Code, 1860.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860) for the purpose hereinafter appearing;

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. Short Title.—This Act may be called the Indian Penal Code (Amendment) Act, 1944.

2. Amendment of section 302, Act XLV of 1860.—In section 302 of the Indian Penal Code (XLV of 1860) and wherever else the words "transportation for life' occur in the said Code, substitute the following words:—

"imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to fourteen years".

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The punishment to which offenders are liable under the provisions of the Indian Penal Code are given in Section 53 of the said Code and are as follows:—

First—Death,
Secondly—Transportation,
Thirdly—Penal Servitude,
Fourthly—Imprisonment which is of two descriptions, namely—

1. Rigorous, that is with hard labour and
2. Simple.

Fifthly—Forfeiture of property and Sixthly—Fine.

Transportation can be for any period and may even extend for life. It was intended to be a separate and distinct punishment. The original object of transportation was two-fold. Firstly it was intended to be a deterrent punishment as the idea of transportation to Black Waters was generally abhorred by the Indians and secondly to colonise the places which were expected to develop considerably by the import of labourer. The author of the original conception of an Indian Penal Settlement was Sir Stamford Raffles who about the year 1787, first introduced convicts into Sumatra to develop that island. After the rendition of Sumatra to the Dutch in 1825, the Indian prisoners were transported to the Straits Settlement to supplement the supply of free labour there. This continued for about 25 years and when the needs of that Colony for this form of assistance had outgrown, the choice fell finally on the Andamans is 1858 and the present settlement was opened at Port Blair.

In 1919 the Government of India appointed a Committee to enquire into the conditions of jails in India and also to make recommendations in respect of the Penal Settlement in the Andamans. This Committee is known as the Indian Jails Committee. That Committee was very much dissatisfied with the conditions of prisoners in the Andamans. They found "the moral atmosphere of the Settlement.....thoroughly unhealthy" (para. 548). They observed that "We therefore, decided that if any fresh attempt at colonisation was to be made, it must be in an entirely new locality" (para. 553). They examined the possibility of improvement in the Andamans or the selection of some other settlement for the purpose. After a close examination of the question they found themselves against any recommendation of a fresh settlement even.

In this connection they observed:—

"There can moreover be no reasonable doubt that it must always be more expensive to transport a prisoner to the Andamans and to guard, feed, clothe and otherwise maintain him there than it would be to keep him in his own province in India..... If a proper establishment is in future maintained, the cost per head, which has always normally much exceeded that of a prisoner in an Indian jail will generally increase" (para. 559).

Dealing with the necessity of transportation on moral grounds they observed "We are not convinced that any sufficient reason exists to justify the undertaking of such large expenditure. The great majority of persons who are deported to the Andamans do not belong to the worst or most dangerous class of Indian criminal. Out of the total population of 12,000 about 2/3rd or 8,000 are persons who have been convicted of murder. The crime of murder in the absence of extenuating circumstances usually results in capital punishment and when this sentence is not imposed, it is often the case that the offence is what is frequently referred to in penological literature as "Crime Passionel". The men who commit these crimes are often some of the least corrupted members of the prison population, and there is therefore no special reason why they should be selected for deportation to Andamans. They might quite as well be retained to undergo their sentences in an Indian prison and a circumstance which bears materially upon this point is the fact that under the present conditions out of every hundred prisoners who are sentenced to transportation not more than fifty are actually deported to the Andamans owing to the stringent rules which have been laid down in consequence of the labour requirements and health conditions of the settlement. It seems to us therefore that if half of the prisoners who are now sentenced to transportation already remain in India, other half, who at present are deported, should not with some exceptions, the nature of which is noticed below, also remain in India". The exceptions pointed out by the Committee are the frontier fanatics and desperate dacoits who are a source of danger to the security of life and property in the locality to which they belong and to whose retention in Indian Jails they attributed some of the misuse of fetters and other means of restraints which they had noticed in some of the provinces.

As to the deterrent effect of the sentence of transportation the Committee observed "..... Experience has however, proved that the deterrent effect, if it ever existed, has long since ceased to operate. It is a well known fact which is borne out by the evidence by many witnesses that prisoners under life sentences commonly request as a favour from the Inspecting Officers that they shall be sent away to the Andamans". Summarising their views the Committee says:— "As deportation to Andamans has lost its deterrent effect, as it involves increased cost, as it exposes the prisoners to depressing climatic conditions, and in the case of average prisoners it is not needed from the administrative point of view, we fail to see what necessity there is for its continuance in respect of the great majority of prisoners who are now sent there."

The Committee recommended the abolition of the punishment of transportation and in pursuance thereof a Bill was introduced in the Legislative Assembly by Sir William Vincent in September 1922. In this Bill an attempt was made to deal with each offence separately and varying terms of imprisonment were proposed as equivalent to the varying periods of transportation according to the nature and gravity of the offence. Sir William Vincent in the Statement of Objects and Reasons stated:—

"As a result of the report of the Indian Jails Committee the Governor General in Council proposes to abolish transportation as a form of judicial punishment, and the Bill is designed to give effect to this decision. Sentences of transportation under the various laws concerned are usually admissible as alternatives to some other form of punishment. These alternatives are so various that it has been decided that the only practicable method of proceeding is to fix in the case of each offence the sentence of imprisonment which shall be substituted for a sentence of transportation for life or for a less period, if such less period is specified....."

The Bill was circulated for eliciting opinion thereon and then referred to a Select Committee of which Sir Malcolm Haily was also a member. The Select Committee took the view that a simple provision prescribing a sentence of imprisonment as equivalent to a sentence of transportation would cause great hardship to the prisoners as the sentence of transportation for a term of years was in practice a lighter sentence than rigorous imprisonment for the same number of years. Provisions of facilities to the prisoners sentenced for long term years would involve great costs to the Provincial Governments and before proceeding further their consultation was necessary. They observed "that the existing law, providing as it does for long term of imprisonment, is itself unsatisfactory, and to amend that law in such way as to extend term of imprisonment of this kind would be an undesirable step".

Sir Henry Stanyon, one of the members of the Committee, wrote an elaborate note on the subject which had the approval of the members of the Committee. In his note he said:—As regards rigorous imprisonment, I agree in the view put forward, chiefly by the Honourable Judges of the Madras High Court that long continued imprisonment with hard labour is to be deprecated. The Hon'ble Mr. Justice Coutts Trotter has written "you require altogether different conditions for a short and a long sentence. The short sentence aims at a sharp and uncomfortable punishment, and so long as it is short, it may properly be made rigorous that is to say extremely—uncomfortable to the actual delinquent—in the hope of reforming him. The long sentence is passed either on account of the great gravity of the offence requiring a deterrent sentence in its length for the warning of the community at large—or on account of the proved recidivist tendencies of the prisoner, which render it necessary to remove him out of mischief .....conditions which would be salutary as a sharp lesson, say for two years, would be mere savagery if imposed for 20 where the real object was to remove the offender, I think this is sound penology. It has been long recognised in England, where hard labour cannot be imposed on a convict for more than two years. For any longer term of imprisonment he is subjected to much less arduous conditions of penal servitude".

The scheme of Sir Henry Stanyon was to subdivide rigorous and simple imprisonment into two further classes, thus—

Rigorous—
- Class I i.e., with hard labour
- Class II i.e., with moderate labour

Simple—
- Class I i.e., with light work and degradation
- Class II i.e., mere confinement without degradation or compulsory work.

For transportation for life he kept a period of 20 years of imprisonment and for other periods of transportation the same period of imprisonment.

In each case, however, R. I. class I was to be given for 3 years, the next 4 years were to be rigorous class II and the rest of simple imprisonment class I.

As to simple imprisonment class II Sir Henry observed, "I would reserve simple imprisonment class II for offenders whom it may be necessary to deprive of their liberty for political and other crimes not involving moral depravity, and whose position, caste, antecedents or the like may render it proper to exempt them from the ordinary degradation of incarceration in jail. But this is a detail which may be left to the discretion of the courts".

Sir Henry Stanyon wondered as to why the courts in India never looked to the provisions of section 60 of the Penal Code according to which they could award varying terms of rigorous and simple imprisonment in each case and observed "the probable reason for this omission being the wide gulf which divides the judicial and general estimates, punitive values and appropriate use of the two forms of imprisonment to which section 60 refers".

However, it was for these reasons that the Committee recommended that the Bill "be not proceeded with pending the consultation with local Governments we have advised and that as soon as possible thereafter the Bill should be revised and presented before the Legislatures". The revised Bill however never came up before the Assembly.

Thus we find the attempt of the Select Committee in reducing the rigour of the hard labour of the prisoners resulted in the postponement of the whole Bill.

It is thus clear that as early as 1922 the Government of India had decided to abolish the punishment for transportation but had given up the task as they thought that by adopting a simple formula of commutation as contained in section 55 of the Indian Penal Code, they were likely to increase the severity of the sentence passed on the prisoner. Section 55 provides that the Government can 'without the consent of the offenders' commute the sentence of transportation for life to imprisonment of either description for a term not exceeding 14 years. In practice, however, even at that time more than 50 per cent. of the prisoners under the sentence of transportation were kept in jails and now that the transportation has, due to the present conditions, become out of question, all the prisoners of that class are kept in jails.

The deletion of the word 'transportation' from the Penal Code would thus result in no practical change so far as the administration of prisons is concerned, I hope a time will come when the scheme of Sir Henry Stanyon or some other such scheme will be worked out for the reform of the prisons.

The object of the present Bill is, however, a limited one. It will cause no change whatever so far as administration is concerned, but will give relief to the prisoners concerned, as well as relieve the Government of the higher costs of transportation even if transportation become feasible in near future. It had been shown at the outset that transportation is a distinct punishment and the courts have no power to commute transportation into a term of imprisonment. In some cases great hardship is involved to persons found guilty under section 302 due to transportation for life being the only alternative to the death sentence provided by that section. Many cases of riots occurred in which the parties fight with each other resulting in, say, death to one member of one of the parties. Say there are ten persons in the opposite party. Under section 302 read with section 149 all the ten are liable at least for transportation for life. This causes sometimes great hardship to the accused and lays a burden on the public purse and the courts are powerless to intervene. Even the High Court cannot reduce the sentence in appeal as has been pointed out above because transportation for life is a punishment different in nature from imprisonment and imprisonment is not provided in section 302. A study of part one of section 304 would make this point still more clear. It provides for transportation for life or imprisonment of either description for a term which may extend to ten years. The court has got no power to award imprisonment of 11 or 12 years. There is no intermediate between transportation for life and imprisonment or ten years. By the substitution of imprisonment for a term of years for transportation for life we will leave it in the power of the courts and specially the High Court to reduce the sentence to proper limits within their discretion. I have kept a period of 14 years as equivalent to 'transportation for life' as provided by section 55 of the Indian Penal Code. Any change in this term for good reasons would be acceptable to me.

C. OF S. BILL No. 1 OF 1945.

A Bill to amend the Caste Disabilities Removal Act, 1850.

Commencement.—(B) It shall come into force on the first day of January, 1946.

Extent.—(C) It extends to the whole of British India.

CHAPTER II.

2. Disinheritance of converts.—Notwithstanding the provisions of the Caste Disabilities Removal Act, 1850 (XXI of 1850), no convert or his relations belonging to the new religion adopted by him shall be exempt from forfeiture of rights or property or shall be entitled to inherit the property of his relation belonging to the religion renounced by him.

THE SCHEDULE.

Enactment repealed.

(See section 3.)

Year.	No.	Short title
1850	XXI	The Caste Disabilities Removal Act.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

In the Minutes of Dissent to be found in the Report of the Joint Select Committee of both Houses of the Legislature appointed to consider the provisions of the Hindu Code, Part I, relating to Intestate Succession (published in the Gazette of India, dated 13th November, 1943, part 5, pages 196-210), ten members out of eighteen pointed out the necessity of introducing a provision in the Hindu Code to the effect that an apostate from the Hindu religion and his relations in the new community should be disqualified from inheriting the property of his Hindu relations. It is, however, desirable to introduce a more comprehensive provision debarring converts from the Muhammadan, Christian or any other religion and their relations in the new religion from inheriting the property of their deceased relations in the renounced religion. Hence the necessity for introducing this Converts Disinheritance Bill.

NOTES ON CLAUSES.

The Caste Disabilities Removal Act, 1850, contains only one section to the following effect, "So much of any law or usage now in force within the territories subject to the Government of the East India Company, as inflicts on any person forfeiture of rights or property, or may be held in any way to impair or affect any right of inheritance, by reason of his or her renouncing, or having been excluded from the communion of any religion, or being deprived of caste, shall cease to be enforced as law in the Courts of the East India Company, and in the Courts established by Royal Charter within the said territories". This Act is known as the Lex Loci Act or the Freedom of Religion Act. Though it is called the Caste Disabilities Removal Act and is applicable to Hindus amongst whom the caste system prevails, it is applicable to the Muhammadans and Buddhist Hindus and others amongst whom the caste system may not be prevailing. It was passed in 1850, when the representatives of the people had no voice in framing it. As stated at page 84 paragraph 256 of Dr. Sir Hari Singh Gour's Hindu Code, the pioneer missionaries influenced the Government of India to pass this Act and make it applicable throughout all the territories subject to the Government of the East India Company which had framed section 9 of Regulation VII, in the year 1832 to the same effect. During the period of 112 years, which elapsed since the time of the passing of the Regulation mentioned above and the period of 94 years which passed since the enactment of the Act, many incidents and changes have taken place. There were the troubles of 1857-58, which led to the declaration by the British Government regarding non-interference in religion. In accordance with this declaration it was the duty of the Government of India to repeal the Act immediately afterwards. But it failed to do so. Hence the necessity for the introduction of a Bill to repeal the Act as stated above.

Whatever may be the case in the matter of persons who resort to unorthodox practices, there is no reason why a person who has given up the religion of his ancestors should come forth to claim the property of his deceased relations belonging to a faith renounced by the convert. As stated in various treaties dealing with Hindu Law, since Hindu Law is a religious law, the right to inherit the property of the deceased Hindu is made by that Law dependant upon the observance of the Hindu religion, which disqualifies a convert from the right of inheritance.

10. Restrictions on petitions for divorce during first three years after marriage.—(1) No petition for divorce shall be presented to a Court unless at the date of the presentation of the petition, three years have passed since the date of the marriage:

Provided that a Court may, upon application being made to it in accordance with the rules of the High Court allow a petition to be presented before three years have passed on the ground that the case is one of exceptional hardship suffered by the petitioner or of exceptional depravity on the part of the respondent; but if it appears to the Court at the hearing of the petition, that the petitioner obtained leave to present the petition by any misrepresentation or concealment of the nature of the case, the Court may, if it pronounces a decree nisi, do so subject to the condition that no application to make the decree absolute shall be made until after the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage, or may dismiss the petition, without prejudice to any petition which may be brought after the expiration of the said three years upon the same, or substantially the same, facts as those proved in support of the petition so dismissed.

(2) In determining any application under this section for leave to present a petition before the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage, the Judge shall have regard to the interests of any children of the marriage and to the question whether there is reasonable probability of a reconciliation between the parties before the expiration of the said three years.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prohibit the presentation of a petition based upon matters which have occurred before the expiration of three years from the date of the marriage.

11. Grounds of petition for divorce.—A petition for divorce may be presented to a Court either by the husband or the wife on the ground that the respondent—

(a) has since the celebration of the marriage committed adultery; or

(b) has deserted the petitioner without cause for a period of at least three years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; or

(c) has since the celebration of the marriage treated the petitioner with cruelty; or

(d) is incurably of unsound mind and has been continuously under care and treatment for a period of at least five years immediately preceding the presentation of the petition; and by the wife on the ground that her husband has, since the celebration of the marriage, been guilty of rape, sodomy or bestiality.

12. Definition of "care and treatment" in relation to insanity.—For the purposes of section 11, a person of unsound mind shall be deemed to be under care and treatment while he is detained in pursuance of any order or inquisition under the Indian Lunacy Act, 1912, and not otherwise.

13. Provision as to making adulterer co-respondent.—(1) On a petition for divorce presented by the husband or in the answer of a husband praying for divorce, the petitioner or respondent, as the case may be, shall make the alleged adulterer a co-respondent unless he is excused by the Court on special grounds from so doing.

(2) On a petition for divorce presented by the wife, the Court may, if it thinks fit, direct that the person with whom the husband is alleged to have committed adultery be made a respondent.

14. Duty of Court on presentation of petition for divorce.—(1) On a petition for divorce, it shall be the duty of the Court to inquire, so far as it reasonably can, into the facts alleged and whether there has been any connivance or condonation on the part of the petitioner and whether any collusion exists between the parties and also to inquire into any countercharge which is made against the petitioner.

(2) If the Court is satisfied on the evidence that—

(i) the case for the petition has been proved and

(ii) where the ground of the petition is adultery the petitioner has not in any manner been accessory to, or connived at, or condoned the adultery, or where the ground of the petition is cruelty the petitioner has not in any manner condoned the cruelty; and

(iii) the petition is not presented or prosecuted in collusion with the respondent or either of the respondents;

the Court shall pronounce a decree of divorce but if the Court is not satisfied with respect to any of the aforesaid matters, it shall dismiss the petition;

Provided that the Court shall not be bound to pronounce a decree of divorce and may dismiss the petition, if it finds that the petitioner has during the marriage been guilty of adultery or if, in the opinion of the Court, the petitioner has been guilty—

(a) of unreasonable delay in presenting or prosecuting the petition; or

(b) of cruelty towards the other party to the marriage; or

(c) where the ground of the petition is adultery or cruelty, of having without reasonable excuse deserted or having without reasonable excuse wilfully separated himself or herself from, the other party before the adultery or cruelty complained of; or

(d) where the ground of the petition is adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion, of such wilful neglect or misconduct as has conduced to the adultery or unsoundness of mind or desertion.

15. Dismissal of respondent or co-respondent from proceedings.—In any case in which, on the petition of a husband for divorce, the alleged adulterer is made a co-respondent or in which, on the petition of a wife for divorce, the person with whom the husband is alleged to have committed adultery is made a respondent, the Court may, after the close of the evidence on the part of the petitioner, direct the co-respondent or the respondent, as the case may be, to be dismissed from the proceedings, if the Court is of opinion that there is not sufficient evidence against him or her.

16. Relief to respondent on petition for divorce.—If in any proceedings for divorce, the respondent opposes the relief sought, in the case of proceedings instituted by the husband, on the ground of his adultery, cruelty or desertion or, in the case of proceedings instituted by the wife, on the ground of her adultery, cruelty or desertion, the Court may give to the respondent the same relief to which he or she would have been entitled if he or she had presented a petition seeking such relief.

17. Decree nisi for divorce or nullity of marriage.—(1) Every decree for divorce or for nullity of marriage shall, in the first instance, be a decree nisi not to be made absolute until after the expiration of six months from the pronouncing thereof, unless the court by general or special order from time to time fixes a shorter time.

(2) After the pronouncing of the decree nisi and before the decree is made absolute, any person may, in the prescribed manner, show cause why the decree should not be made absolute by reason of the decree having been obtained by collusion or by reason of material facts not having been brought before the court, and in any such case the court may make the decree absolute, reverse the decree nisi, require further inquiry or otherwise deal with the case as the court thinks fit.

(3) Prevention of delay in application for decree absolute.—Where a decree nisi has been obtained, whether before or after the passing of this Act, and no application for the decree to be made absolute has been made by the party who obtained the decree, then at any time after the expiration of three months from the earliest date on which that party could have made such an application, the party against whom the decree nisi has been granted shall be at liberty to apply to the court and the court shall, on such application, have power to make the decree absolute, reverse the decree nisi, require further inquiry or otherwise deal with the case as the court thinks fit.

18. Confirmation of decree for dissolution by District Judge.—Every decree for a dissolution of marriage made by a District Judge shall be subject to confirmation by the High Court:

Provided that no decree shall be confirmed under this section till after the expiration of such time, not less than six months from the pronouncing thereof, as the High Court by general or special order from time to time directs.

During the progres of the suit in the Court of the District Judge, any persons, suspecting that any parties to the suit are or have been acting in collusion for the purpose of obtaining a divorce, shall be at liberty, in such manner as the High Court by general or special order from time to time directs, to apply to the High Court to remove the suit under Section 8, and the High Court shall thereupon, if it thinks fit, remove such suit and try and determine the same as a Court of original jurisdiction, and the provisions contained in Section 17 shall apply to every suit so removed; or it may direct the District Judge to take such steps in respect of the alleged collusion as may be necessary to enable him to make a decree in accordance with the justice of the case.

19. Appointment of officer to exercise duties of King's Proctor.—The Provincial Government of any Province within which any High Court established by Letters Patent exercises jurisdiction, may appoint an officer who shall, within the jurisdiction of the High Court in that Province, have the like right of showing cause why a decree for the dissolution of a marriage should not be made absolute or should not be confirmed, as the case may be, as is exercisable in England by the King's Proctor; and the said Government may make rules regulating the manner in which the right shall be exercised and all matters incidental to or consequential on any exercise of the right.

In relation to the jurisdiction of any such High Court as aforesaid in an Indian State this section shall have effect as if the reference to the Provincial Government was a reference to the Central Government.

20. Grounds for decree of nullity.—(1) In addition to any other grounds on which a marriage is by law void or voidable, a marriage shall be voidable on the ground—

(a) that the marriage has no been consummated owing to the wilful refusal of the respondent to consummate the marriage; or

(b) that either party to the marriage was at the time of the marriage of unsound mind or a mental defective or subject to recurrent fits of insanity or epilepsy; or

(c) that the respondent was at the time of marriage suffering from venereal disease in a communicable form; or

(d) that the respondent was at the time of the marriage pregnant by some person other than the petitioner:

Provided that, in the cases specified in paragraphs (b), (c) and (d) of this sub-section, the court shall not grant a decree unless it is satisfied—

(i) that the petitioner was at the time of the marriage ignorant of the facts alleged;

(ii) that proceedings were instituted within a year from the date of the marriage; and

(iii) that marital intercourse with the consent of the petitioner has not taken place since the discovery by the petitioner of the existence of the grounds for a decree.

(2) Any child born of a marriage avoided pursuant to paragraph (b) or (c) of the last foregoing sub-section shall be a legitimate child of the parties thereto notwithstanding that the marriage is so avoided.

(3) Nothing in this section shall be construed as validating any marriage which is by law void, but with respect to which a decree of nullity has not been granted.

21. Confirmation of District Judge's decree.—Every decree of nullity of marriage made by a District Judge shall be subject to confirmation by the High Court, and the provisions of Section 18, shall, mutatis mutandis, apply in such decrees.

22. Proceedings for decree of presumption of death and dissolution of marriage.—(1) Any married person who alleges that reasonable grounds exist for supposing that the other party to the marriage is dead may present a petition to the court to have it presumed that the other party is dead and to have the marriage dissloved, and the court, if satisfied that such reasonable grounds exist, may make a decree of presumption of death and of dissolution of the marriage.

(2) In any such proceedings the fact that for a period of seven years or upwards the other party to the marriage has been continually absent from the petitioner, and the petitioner has no reason to believe that the other party has been living within that time, shall be evidence that he or she is dead until the contrary is proved.

(3) Sections 17, 19 and 43 shall apply to a petition and a decree under this section as they apply to a petition for divorce and a decree of divorce respectively.

23. Decree of judicial separation.—(1) A petition for judicial separation may be presented to the court either by the husband or the wife on any grounds on which a petition for divorce might have been presented, or on the ground of failure to comply with a decree for restitution of conjugal rights or on any ground on which a decree for divorce a mensâ et toro might have been pronounced and the foregoing provisions of this part of this Act relating to the duty of the court on the presentation of a petition for divorce and the circumstances in which such a petition shall or may be granted or dismissed, shall apply in like manner to a petition for judicial separation.

(2) Where the court in accordance with the said provisions grants a decree of judicial separation, it shall no longer be obligatory for the petitioner to cohabit with the respondent.

(3) The court may, on the application by petition of the husband or wife against whom a decree for judicial separation has been made, and on being satisfied that the allegations contained in the petition are true, reverse the decree at any time after the making thereof, on the ground that is was obtained in the absence of the person making the application, or, if desertion was the ground of the decree, that there was reasonable cause for the alleged desertion.

(4) The reversal of a decree for judicial separation shall not affect the rights or remedies which any other person would have had if the decree had not been reversed in respect of any debts, contracts or acts of the wife incurred, entered into or done between the date of the decree and of the reversal thereof.

24. Separated wife deemed spinster with respect to after-acquired property.—In every case of a judicial separation under this Act, the wife shall, from the date of the decree and whilst the separation continues, be considered as unmarried with respect to property of every description which she may acquire, or which may come to or devolve upon her.

Such property may be disposed of by her in all respects as an unmarried woman, and on her decease the same shall, in case she dies intestate, go as the same would have gone if her husband had been then dead:

Provided that, if any such wife, again cohabits with her husband, all such property as she may be entitled to when such cohabitation takes place shall be held to her separate use, subject, however, to any agreement in writing made between herself and her husband whilst separate.

25. Separated wife deemed spinster for purposes of contract and suing.—In every case of a judicial separation under this Act, the wife shall whilst so separated, be considered as an unmarried woman for the purposes of contract, and wrongs and injuries, and suing and being sued in any civil proceeding; and her husband shall not be liable in respect of any contract, act or costs entered into, done, omitted or incurred by her during the separation:

Provided that where, upon any such judicial separation, alimony has been decreed or ordered to be paid to the wife, and the same is not duly paid by the husband, he shall be liable for necessaries supplied for her use;

Provided also that nothing shall prevent the wife from joining at any time during such separation, in the exercise of any joint power given to herself and her husband.

26. The grounds of petition for divorce specified in the Bill are:—

(a) adultery,
(b) desertion without cause for 3 years,
(c) cruelty,
(d) incurable insanity,
(e) rape, sodomy, or bestiality on the part of a husband.

No petition for divorce can be presented earlier than three years from the date of the marriage. There are certain other provisions relating to decrees of judicial separation and nullity, which are intended to provide relief from hardship.

In the picturesque language of the preamble to the Matrimonial Causes Act of 1937, this Bill is promoted in the interests of "the true support of marriage, the protection of children, the removal of hardship, the reduction of illicit unions and unseemly litigation and the restoration of due respect for the law".

23. Amendment of section 70, Act XIII of 1943.—(1) In sub-section (2) of section 70 of the said Act,—

(a) after the word "Majlis" the words "or committees" shall be inserted;

(b) after clause (q) the following clause shall be added, namely:—

(2) In section 70 of the said Act, after sub-section (3), the following sub-section shall be added, namely:—

"(4) In case the Provincial Government fail to take any action under sub-section (3) within three months from the date of the receipt of bye-laws framed by the Majlis, such bye-laws shall be deemed to have been duly approved and confirmed by the Provincial Government."

24. Relettering and renumbering of Act XIII of 1943.—That Delhi Muslim Wakfs Act as hitherto amended shall be relettered and renumbered.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

When the Delhi Muslim Wakf Bill, 1943, w being considered by the Joint Select Committee the Central Legislature, several important matte based on the public opinions received on the sa Bill, were placed before it, of which some we accepted and others were left out for future co siderations on the practical experience of the wor ing of the laws. Among the important omission the following deserve special consideration:—

1. The omission of penal clauses against th Mutawallis of the wakf is proving a very grea obstacle in the progress of the initial work of th Majlis and the result is that up till now very fe Mutawallis have cared to apply for registering th wakfs under their charge, although section 43(1 provides for compulsory registration of wak within six months of the date of publication of th first constitution of the Majlis, which was pub lished about a year ago. The Majlis had to exten thrice the final date of registration of wakfs but t no success.

2. The second omission was the power of the Majlis to compel attendance of witnesses and pro duction of documents as is provided in almost al the existing laws on the subject, say section 33 o the Bengal Wakfs Act, of 1934, section 46 of the U. P. Wakfs Act, 1936, section 27 of the N.-W. F. P. Wakfs Act, 1939, and section 14 of the Land Acquisition Act, 1894.

3. The third omission was to provide for a speedy realisation of arrear wakf dues. Due to Delhi Rent Control Ordinance XXV of 1944, tenants of wakfs estates have become a regular source of trouble and are withholding payments of wakfs arrear dues and the Majlis being in its infancy stands in need of adequate funds to run its office and establishment. Besides the wakfs properties were much mis-managed before the passing of the Delhi Muslim Wakfs Act, 1943, and were settled on nominal rental say, one anna, one and a quarter annas, and two annas a day. Over and above, cases of sub-letting are numerous. Hence the Majlis needs support of legislative measure to safeguard its legitimate interests. Some sections are consequently thought necessary to be added. The rest of the Bill provides clarification of some points of Muslim wakf laws, and hence this Bill.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 30th December 1944.

Second Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal, 1944-45.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1942-43, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 20·8 per cent. of the total area under rice in India.)

Character of the season.—Since the submission of the first forecast of the crop, early in October last, the weather conditions have not been quite favourable. Want of showers in October has adversely affected the crop at places.

Acreage.—According to the figures supplied by the District Officers, the total area under winter rice this year is estimated at 18,538,900 acres as compared with 18,114,300 and 18,176,700 acres in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year. The increase in area this year is due to the high price of rice prevailing at the sowing time.

Outturn.—From the summary of the district returns it will be seen that 4 districts expect normal outturn of 100 per cent., 14 districts between 83 and 92, 7 districts between 75 and 80 and the remaining two below 75.

According to the above estimates the provincial outturn works out to 84 per cent. of the normal against 101 and 103 per cent. respectively in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year.

Accepting 84 per cent. as the provincial outturn, the gross yield of the crop, on the basis of the normal yield of 12·2/5 maunds of clean rice (husked) per acre, is estimated at 7,093,500 tons this year against the estimates of 8,333,800 and 8,528,100 tons respectively in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year.

The contributions from Government and the district boards fell from Rs. 1,53,000 to Rs. 85,924 and from Rs. 4·85 lakhs to Rs. 3·75 lakhs, respectively.

The total expenditure of union boards decreased from Rs. 99·69 lakhs to Rs. 97·56 lakhs, of which a sum of Rs. 51·46 lakhs or about 52·7 per cent. of the total expenditure was on the salaries and equipment of the chaukidars and dafadars. The union boards spent during the year under review a sum of Rs. 7·88 lakhs on the construction and maintenance of village roads, of which Rs. 2·62 lakhs represented expenditure on original works; a sum of Rs. 6 lakhs on water-supply of which Rs. 4·36 lakhs represented expenditure on original works; a sum of Rs. 2·35 lakhs on drainage, conservancy and other sanitary measures, Rs. 2·86 lakhs on primary education and Rs. 3·98 lakhs on medical relief.

4. Union Benches.—Union Benches have been established under the Bengal Village Self-Government Act of 1919 in all districts of Bengal except Darjeeling. The total number of Benches established and in existence was 1,801 against 1,659 in the previous year. The number of offences reported to these Benches was 82,723 showing a decrease of 2,686 on that of 1941. The working of the union benches continued to be satisfactory on the whole. They afforded appreciable relief to the ordinary courts by disposing of a fair number of petty cases during the year. These village tribunals are growing in popularity as they administer speedy justice locally at a very low cost and without any elaborate legal procedure.

Union courts.—Union courts have been established under the Bengal Village Self-Government Act of 1919, in all the districts in Bengal except Darjeeling. The total number of courts established was 1,650 against 1,629 in the previous year. The number of suits instituted in these courts was 49,541 showing a decrease of 2,132 over that of 1941. Of the total number of applications for disposal during the year under report under the proviso to section 88 of the Bengal Village Self-Government Act, 96 cases were either dismissed or not prosecuted. In 165 cases the lower courts' orders were confirmed, in 29 modified, in 68 reversed and 22 cases were remanded for retrial. The union courts are reported, generally, to be popular and useful to poor litigants as speedy redress is available locally at a very low cost and to be affording some relief to the Munsifs. Some district Judges are of opinion that the utility of these courts would increase if a better personnel could be ensured and that further improvements and stricter supervision over the courts are required in order to free them from the suspicion of corruption and malpractices as far as possible. It is reported from some districts that the introduction of the Debt Settlement Boards has affected the work of these courts to some extent.

5. Relations between local officers and union boards and between district boards and union boards.—The relation between the Circle Officers and the Presidents as w as between the district boards and uni boards continued to be cordial. There w co-operation between the Presidents and t Police in the prevention and detection crimes and in organising Village Defe Parties. Co-operative conferences were h regularly.

6. General Remarks.—The working union boards during the year under rep was on the whole satisfactory. Most them continued to do good works of pub utility such as improvement of village roa water-supply and establishment of disp saries. Many engaged themselves in furtherance of the war effort. Some w very helpful in carrying out the rural construction policy of Government and so did valuable work for the improvement village sanitation with the limited resour at their disposal in spite of the inevita tendency, in too many cases, to indulge party faction.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL

Calcutta, the 5th February 1945.

Final Forecast of the Sugarcane Crop of Bengal, 1944-45.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1942-43, the area under sugarcane in Bengal, has represented some 8·1 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in India.)

Character of the season.—Since the submission of the second forecast in October last the weather and its effect on the crop have been, on the whole, fair. Some damage has been caused at places by drought and insect-pests.

Acreage.—The total area planted is estimated at 309,700 acres this year against 338,500 acres last year. The decrease is due to the high prices prevailing for other competing crops.

Outturn.—According to the estimates of the District Officers the average outturn of the crop for the province works out to 72 per cent. of the normal this year as against 75 per cent. last year.

Taking 515 ½ maunds as the normal yield of sugarcane per acre, the gross outturn for the province is estimated at 4,220,000 tons this year against 4,805,000 tons last year; and on the basis of gur/cane ratio 1:10 the fixed standard for the province as a whole, the gross outturn of cane gur is estimated at 422,000 tons this year against 480,500 tons last year.

Other sources of gur.—The total quantity of gur likely to be obtained from date-palm juice and other sources is estimated at 123,700 tons this year as against 118,300 tons last year.

The total quantity of gur produced from all sources is thus estimated at 545,700 tons this year as against 598,800 tons last year.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

EPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 7th March 1945.

cond Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops, 1944-45.

ntro.—On an average of the five years ending 1942-43, the area under linseed in Bengal has represented some 4 per cent. and that of rape and mustard some 12·4 per cent. of the total areas under these crops in India.)

Character of the season.—Since the submission the first forecast, the weather and its effect on e growth of the crops have not been quite favourle. Showers in the first part of January, howet, proved beneficial to the crops.

Area sown.—Spring oilseeds are chiefly grown in rea, Rajshahi and Presidency Divisions. In the other two Divisions cultivation of the same is not so extensive. The total area under these crops excepting sesamum for which separate forecasts are issued) is estimated at 1,009,700 acres this year as against 1,007,600 and 1,018,800 acres in the corresponding and the final forecasts respectively of last year. The decrease in area is reported to be due to unfavourable weather conditions at the time of sowing.

Outturn.—From the District Officers' estimates the average outturn of different oilseed crops for the province works out to 70 per cent. of the normal, as against 73 per cent. reported in both the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year.

Public Health.

RESOLUTION No. 1119P.H.

Calcutta, the 25th April 1945.

ead the Report of the Director of Public Health, Bengal, for the year 1942.

Vital statistics.—There were 1,448,299 births registered in the year nder report as against 1,594,291 in 1941—a decrease of 150,992. The birth ate was 23·93 per 1,000 of the midyear estimated population against 31·9 in revious year. The large difference in the rates of 1942 and 1941 was due the adoption of the estimated midyear population in calculating the rates f 1942, the rates in 1941 being calculated on the census population of 1931. he number of deaths registered in the Province during 1942 was 1,222,164 against 1,184,850 in 1941, representing an increase of 37,314. The eath rate was 20·19 per mille against 23·7 per mille in 1941, the rate in 941 being calculated on the basis of 1931 census figures The highest birth ate of the year (34·8 per mille) was recorded in the district of Birbhum nd the lowest (9·4 per mille) in Calcutta. The highest death rate (27·2 er mille) was returned by the district of Darjeeling while the lowest (7·3 er mille) was in the district of Malda. The number of male births per 100 emale births was 108·9 during the year against 108·0 in the previous year. xcluding "other classes" the Hindus recorded the highest birth rate of 4·55 per mille and the Muslims the lowest rate of 23·80 per mille. As egards death rate the Muslims showed the highest rate of 21·66 per mille hile the Christians showed the lowest rate of 15·48 per mille. There was ppreciable decrease in the number of unregistered births and deaths etected during 1942, which were 6,390 and 2,821 as against 7,610 and 143, respectively, in the previous year. 330 defaulters under Bengal rths and Deaths Registration Act were prosecuted during the year under view, of whom 193 were convicted, 48 acquitted and 89 were pending trial. he Director of Public Health, Bengal, pointed out in this connection that here was some defect in the registration of births in Calcutta and expressed is hope that the health authorities of the Calcutta Corporation would take roper steps in the matter. During the year under report Sanitary spectors were in charge of compilation and transmission of the vital atistical returns of thanas to the District Health Officers in 14 districts hile the Subdivisional Officers were responsible for the remaining 12 istricts. There was, however, noticed considerable delay in submission of ese returns by the District Health Officers and it is expected that these fficers will, in future, take proper steps for regular and punctual submis- on of correct monthly statistical returns to the Director of Public Health.

Infantile and maternal mortality.—The number of infantile deaths during e year was 2,23,500 (urban 10,064 and rural 2,13,436) against 2,48,226 in 941 representing a decrease of 24,726 The infantile death rate was 154·3 per mille of live births against 155·7 in the previous year. Compared v the previous year the infantile mortality rate decreased by 0·9 per c The number of still births was 53,576 (50,560 in rural areas and 3,01(urban areas) as against 61,904 in 1941—a decrease of 8,328. The still b rate was 35·67 per 1,000 births (live and still births). The rate was hig among the Muslims (40·90) and lowest (20·60) among the Christi 13,503 mothers died as a result of child birth during the year. corresponding figures for the last 3 years were 15,792, 15,758 and 14,(A definite improvement was thus noticeable in this direction.

This was the third year of working of the maternity and child wel scheme to which a reference was made in the resolution reviewing the re for the year, 1940. Altogether 34 maternity and child welfare centres u the above scheme functioned during the year under review. Efforts v also made to bring about uniformity in the working of the different cen under the said scheme. During the year one centre had to be closed d for want of co-operation of the local committee. Nine new centres v started in different parts of the Province.

General Epidemiology—Cholera.—The total number of deaths f cholera during the year under report was 78,391 (3,232 in urban areas 75,159 in rural areas) with a death rate of 1·3 per mille as against 61 deaths in the previous year with a death rate of 1·2 per mille. The q quennial average death rate from cholera was 0·7 per mille. The morta from cholera was greater in the rural areas than in the urban areas.

Cholera preventive measures.—All approved anti-cholera measures inc ing disinfection of the affected houses, wells, tanks and river ghats v adopted to combat the disease. A large number of epidemic doct Sanitary Inspectors, etc., with necessary equipments and drugs were dep to various local bodies to assist them in carrying out anti-cholera meas in the Province. The total number of anti-cholera inoculations perfor during the year was 36,78,551, of which 34,37,645 were in rural area against 34,82,398 in 1941. The total number of vaccinators employed in the Province 2,661 against 2,510 in 1941. The total number of Vaccination Inspec was 48 during 1942. Two Special Inspectors of Vaccination were retained by the Public Health Department for organisation of vaccina campaign by local bodies. The percentage of persons successf vaccinated to total population was 5·31 against 8·7 during 1941. T a considerable decrease in the number of persons vaccinated during the ar and this might have been due to the lesser attention paid by the local uthorities in the matter of vaccination and Government cannot but reiterate ie urgent necessity on the part of the local authorities of organising an ntensive campaign of vaccination according to the programme fixed by overnment so as to cover effectively the whole population in the districts.

25,92,520 grains of vaccine lymph was manufactured during 1942 and ie average cost of production of vaccine lymph per dose of half a grain was 9 pies as against 0·7 pies in 1941.

During the year under report there was an appreciabl decrease in the number of deaths from this disease which was responsibl for 49·9 per cent. of the total deaths from respiratory diseases.

Pulmonary tuberculosis.—This disease took a toll of 11,120 lives wit a death rate of 0·18 per mille as against 12,867 lives with a rate of 0·26 pe mille in the previous year. The number of deaths from the disease in rura areas was 7,583 and in urban areas 3,537 giving a death rate of 0·14 an 0·63 per mille, respectively. Calcutta with a death rate of 1·07 per mil was responsible for 63·6 per cent. of the deaths recorded in the urban area

The tuberculosis surveys at Barisal and Serampore were completed durin the year under review. Both these surveys revealed interesting statistica data regarding the incidence of tuberculosis in both industrial and rura areas, which are calculated to be very helpful in formulating the post-wa anti-tuberculosis scheme. The Bengal Tuberculosis Association continue to carry on valuable publicity and propaganda work with the usual gran from Government. The work of the Association included:—

(1) maintenance of six dispensaries in Calcutta and one in Howrah an three tuberculosis clinics at three mufassil towns;

(2) training of health visitors and medical men in tuberculosis work;

(3) anti-tuberculosis propaganda through lantern lectures, cinema show and radio talks.

It was, however, not possible to hold the course of training of the Medic and Health Officers in tuberculosis work, on account of the unsettled cond tions of life in Calcutta during the year under report. Training of Hom Visitors, which is usually undertaken by the Bengal Tuberculosis Associa tion, could not also be undertaken during the year for the same reason.

Towards the latter part of the year 1942, two Special Officers for Tube culosis Control, were appointed by Government and they have been entruste with the work of development of the Provincial Scheme for control o tuberculosis by organising district associations for establishment of che clinics and village isolation centres and co-ordinating their activities. provision of Rs. 40,000 was made in the budget for establishment of che clinics attached to sadar hospitals and village isolation centres but th response from the local bodies was very poor. This indicated lack o enthusiasm on the part of local bodies.

The Jadavpur Tuberculosis Hospital which is the only institution of i kind in the Province received considerable financial assistance during th year. An additional recurring grant of Rs. 20,000 was made to th hospital for maintenance of 20 additional free beds thus raising the numbe of free beds maintained at Government cost to 30 during the year. A capital grant of Rs. 15,000 was also made to the hospital towards cost o acquisition of land for further extension of the hospital.

'he total number of patients treated in the hospital during 1942 was of whom 278 were new admissions.

Whooping cough.—3,068 deaths from this disease were recorded with ath rate of ·05 per mille as against 2,921 deaths in 1941. The rural h rate (0·5 per mille) was considerably higher than that (·01 per mille) rban areas.

)ther respiratory diseases.—There were 20,345 deaths with death rate ·34 per mille as against 24,058 deaths with death rate of 0·48 per mille he previous year.

)ther diseases—Plague.—During the year under report not a single h from plague was reported.

)ysentery and diarrhoea.—There were 53,255 deaths with a mortality of 0·9 per mille from dysentery and diarrhoea as against 51,529 in the ious year with a mortality rate of 1·03 per mille.

.eprosy.—This disease was responsible for 1,388 deaths (1,335 in the l areas and 53 in the urban areas) as against 1,596 deaths (1,556 in the l areas and 40 in the urban areas) in 1941. The percentage of leper hs in rural and urban areas were 96·2 and 3·8, respectively. There was leath from leprosy in Calcutta during the year under report as in the ious year.

5 leprosy clinics were working in six districts during the year. The owing schemes were sanctioned by Government:—

(1) Murshidabad district board leprosy scheme for seven centres.

(2) Mymensingh district board leprosy scheme for six centres.

Injuries.—The number of deaths from "injuries" was 24,317 (22,355 he rural and 1,962 in the urban areas) with a death rate of ·40 per mille gainst 21,476 in 1941 with a death rate of ·43 per mille. Out of the l deaths, 16,426 were due to wounds and accidents, 3,889 to snake bites, 8 to suicide, 418 to rabies, 427 to homicide, and 309 killed by wild nals.

Fairs and festivals.—There were full co-operation between the Public lth Department and the local authorities concerned in undertaking heal and sanitary arrangements for the welfare of the pilgrims and the ention of outbreaks of infectious diseases in the several important melas he Province, viz., Allowakhowa mela, Sitakund Sivaratri mela, Langal- d mela and Sivaratri mela at Tarakeswar. The precautionary measures ertaken were in respect of water-supply, conservancy, disposal of refuses, ervision of food-stuff, etc. Necessary public health staff were deputed ywhere for carrying out preventive vaccinations and inoculations. The gasagar mela was not held during the year under report due to war litions. Only two persons died of pneumonia in Allowakhowa mela and five cases of cholera were detected in Langalband mela but all of them ived the attack. There were no epidemics in any of the melas.

Sanitation and water-supply.—The municipal bodies in Bengal spent 53,16,594 or 40·9 per cent. of their total receipts inclusive of the opening nce on public health work during the financial year 1941-42 showing a ease of 1·0 per cent. compared with the expenditure of 1940-41. This to a certain extent attributable to the fact that a considerably higher expenditure had to be incurred on public safety. The average incide of municipal taxation per head of population was Rs. 2-7-9 during 1941- as compared with Rs. 3-9-3 in 1940-41. The average expenditure on publ health per head of population was Rs. 1-8-4 in 1941-42 as against Rs. 2-3 in 1940-41. There was thus a considerable decrease of 10 annas and 11 pa per head of population during 1941-42 which was rather unsatisfacto having regard to the fact that the income of the municipal bodies durin the year increased by 4·2 per cent. The total expenditures on conservanc drainage and water-supply were Rs. 26,35,143, Rs. 4,04,655 a Rs. 10,52,274, respectively.

The total expenditure incurred by the district boards in rural areas water-supply, drainage, vaccination and epidemic charges was Rs. 26,48,0 in 1941-42 against Rs. 24,97,948 in 1940-41 and represented 15·0 per ce of their total receipts, which decreased by 3·0 per cent. as compared w the receipt of the previous year. The percapita expenditure on pub health was 10 pies during the year 1941-42. This showed that better atte tion was given by the district boards to rural sanitation during the year i spite of the falling off of their income.

The number of union boards during the year was 5,140. The income the union boards was Rs. 1,00,98,558 in 1941-42 against Rs. 1,01,94,348 1940-41. The expenditure of the union boards on water-supply increas considerably to Rs. 7,70,429 from Rs. 5,99,752 in 1940-41. The expenditu on other items of public health, viz., drainage, conservancy, etc., al increased during the year 1941-42. This was no doubt a very happy featu in the administration of local self-government.

29 Health Officers and 112 Sanitary Inspectors were employed in municipalities (excluding Calcutta) in the year 1942 as against 33 Hea Officers and 110 Sanitary Inspectors in the previous year. Sanit Inspectors or Health Officers were not employed in 23 municipalities agai 25 in the previous year, the public health work in these municipalities be performed by Sanitary Inspectors of the neighbouring municipalities district boards.

During the year 1941-42 increased grants were made by Governm towards supply of drinking water in the rural areas as in the previous y

School hygiene.—The School Hygiene Division under the Bengal Pu Health Department functioned throughout the year under report. The t number of school-going children examined was 16,635, of which 4,687 f from Calcutta, 7,793 from the other municipal areas and 4,155 from rural areas. Mal-nutrition, eye troubles, dental caries and enlarged to were found to be the most common ailments. The rural areas had addition enlarged spleen. All defects or diseases in the boys were bro to the notice of their parents or guardians for proper treatment.

In rural areas the Sanitary Inspectors examined 1,75,420 pupils in schools in the year 1942. During the year under review 217 plans construction of school buildings were examined by the Public H Department, from the public health point of view, of which 135 approved and 82 were returned for necessary modification.

Almost all the schools arranged for physical training of their stu during the year under report. Physical training in girls' schools received due attention.

Health propaganda.—During the year health exhibitions were held in rious parts of the Province. Posters and charts and health models were nt to all the important exhibitions for demonstration.

Miscellaneous.—The normal activities of the Public Health Department re maintained and some measure of improvement was noticeable in a mber of directions. Grants-in-aid on the usual conditions were made to al bodies and voluntary associations on account of health welfare services. sides payment of the usual contribution towards the pay of the Health ficers employed by the local bodies, a sum of Rs. 2,000 was spent by overnment for each public health unit in the rural areas maintained by e district boards in each thana. There were 578 such units operating in e year under report. A grant of about Rs. 7 lakhs was distributed for provement of water-supply in rural areas. The usual grant (Rs. 10,000) s made to each of the Tuberculosis Association, Bengal, and the Bengal anch of British Empire Leprosy Relief Association. Besides the above, ants for free vaccination, for free distribution of quinine, and for anti-la-azar measures were continued as in previous years. Mention may be ade here particularly of some of the anti-malarial activities of the Public ealth Department during the year under review. The Hart Khali khal nd Ichamati khal schemes in the Chittagong district were examined and pproved by the Director of Public Health. The Singur and Madhubati nti-malarial Scheme in Hooghly was continued during the year at overnment cost. The scheme was carried at under the supervision of the edical Officer of Health, Singur Model health Unit, and it is gratifying note in this connection that there was a marked improvement in the alth conditions within the unit area, where there were only 152 deaths om malaria and 22 deaths from cholera and no death from small-pox, gainst 183, 41 and 8 deaths respectively in the previous year

Special surveys were also undertaken in the districts of Mymensingh, aridpur and Rangpur in order to establish certain temporary treatment ntres to cope with the widespread prevalence of malaria. Anti-ludlowii rvey and control measures were also effectively continued in the eastern art of Calcutta, in the salt lakes area and in the industrial area of Budge Budge with the result that incidence of anti-ludlowii was kept low in the ar.

Samples of food stuffs and water sent by the district boards and muni-ipalities, jute mills, hospitals and dispensaries, etc., were analysed as usual the Bengal Public Health Laboratory and it is interesting to note that 5 per cent. of the samples of food-stuff received from the district boards nd 38·8 per cent. of the samples from the municipalities were of mustard il, while only 22·5 per cent. of the samples from district boards and 45·9 er cent. from municipalities were of milk and milk products The analysis evealed that 33·7 per cent. of the samples of mustard oil sent by district oards and 24·1 per cent. of samples sent by municipalities were adulterated. Percentages of adulteration of samples of milk and milk products were, owever, greater, viz., 80·3 per cent. in case of samples received from istrict boards and 70 per cent in case of samples received from unicipalities.

The Nutrition Survey was continued during the year under report in rder to determine the nature and extent of mal-nutrition among the students n primary and secondary schools, members of families and labour classes of ndustrial areas 2,093 students (1,241 boys and 852 girls) were examined. Besides the students, 478 males, 289 females and 70 infants were examined during the course of house to house visits by the Nutrition staff. The he of the institutions and families were informed about the hygienic defi and the remedial measures to remove them. A diet survey was also carr out and the principles of cooking and preparation of balanced diet w impressed upon the people.

General remarks.—The year 1942 was comparatively a better year fr the view point of the public health except for the devastating cyclone a high tidal sea bore which ravaged the coastal belt of the Midnapore dist towards the latter part of October and brought in its wake famine, pestilence and resulted in the filling of the tanks and dovas with saline wa rendering them favourable breeding places for the virulent malaria carry species A. Sundaicus. Although there was an increase in the number deaths from cholera and malaria, the deaths from small-pox, kala-a tuberculosis and other diseases like influenza, enteric fever, typhus fe etc., recorded appreciable decrease in the year. Deaths due to child h was also less than those in the previous three years by a considera number. The Bengal Public Health Asociation with its branches throu out the districts of the Province did much towards the awakening of he consciousness of the people.

Personnel.—Dr. B. Mookerjee held the charge of the Director of Pu Health, Bengal, throughout the year under review.

Calcutta, the 23rd May 1945.

ird and Final Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1944-45.

ote: On an average of the five years ending 1942-43, the area under linseed in Bengal has represented some 4 per cent. and that of rape and mustard some 12·4 per cent. of the total area under these crops in India.)

Character of the season.—Since the submission the second forecast in March last, the weather l its effect on the crops have not been generally ourable. Some damage has been caused to the ps due to drought at the early stages and irre-ar distribution of rainfall, insect-pests and ngus diseases at the time of maturing at places.

Area sown.—Spring oilseeds are chiefly grown in Dacca, Rajshahi and Presidency Divisions. In the other two divisions the cultivation of the same is not so extensive. The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecast are issued) is returned at 1,018,100 acres as against 1,018,800 acres last year.

Outturn.—From the District Officers' estimates, the provincial outturn of the different oilseed crops works out to 69 per cent. of the normal as against 73 per cent. last year.

Taking 6½ maunds as the normal yield per acre for linseed, 6-3/5 maunds for rape and mustard and 4½ maunds for other oilseeds, the total yield of the crops for the province is estimated at 166,900 tons as against 176,500 tons last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL

Calcutta, the 23rd May 1945.

hird and Final Forecast of the Spring Oilseed Crops of Bengal, 1944-45.

ote: On an average of the five years ending 1942-43, the area under linseed in Bengal has represented some 4 per cent. and that of rape and mustard some 12·4 per cent. of the total area under these crops in India.)

Character of the season.—Since the submission the second forecast in March last, the weather d its effect on the crops have not been generally vourable. Some damage has been caused to the ops due to drought at the early stages and irre-lar distribution of rainfall, insect-pests and ngus diseases at the time of maturing at places.

Area sown.—Spring oilseeds are chiefly grown in Dacca, Rajshahi and Presidency Divisions. In the other two divisions the cultivation of the same is not so extensive. The total area under these crops (excepting sesamum for which separate forecast are issued) is returned at 1,018,100 acres as against 1,018,800 acres last year.

Outturn.—From the District Officers' estimates, the provincial outturn of the different oilseed crops works out to 69 per cent. of the normal as against 73 per cent. last year.

Taking 6½ maunds as the normal yield per acre for linseed, 6-3/5 maunds for rape and mustard and 4½ maunds for other oilseeds, the total yield of the crops for the province is estimated at 166,900 tons as against 176,500 tons last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL

Calcutta, the 24th January 1945.

First Forecast of the Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1944-45.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1942-43, the area under wheat in Bengal has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to the total wheat acreage (a) in British India and (b) in Bengal has, in the five years ending 1942-43, averaged (a) 47·9 per cent. and (b) 7·2 per cent. respectively.)

Explanatory.—Four forecasts of the wheat crop are published. The present forecast deals only with the estimated area sown and the general conditions of the crop in the early stages.

Acreage.—According to the estimates of the District Officers the total area sown is 170,700 acres this year as against 178,500 and 192,200 acres respectively in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year.

Character of the season.—Sowings generally commenced in normal time. Unfavourable weather conditions in the shape of drought adversely affected the growth of the crop in its early stage. The present outlook is reported to be fair.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

F. ISLAM WAHED, for Director of Agriculture Bengal

Resolution on the reports of the Chief Engineer, Public Health, and of the Sanitary Board, Bengal, for the year 1943.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

Department of Public Health and Local Self-Government.

Public Health.

RESOLUTION—No. 1548P.H.

Calcutta, the 28th May 1945.

Read the reports of the Chief Engineer, Public Health and of the Sanitary Board, Bengal, for the year 1943. The Engineering Branch of the Public Health Department maintained its usual standard of efficient administration and extended its activities in many directions.

Besides the permanent executive staff of one Chief Engineer, 3 Executive Engineers, 5 Assistant Engineers, 13 officers in the subordinate engineering service and 1 Superintendent of waterworks, the department also maintained several temporary hands both in the Provincial and Subordinate Engineering services, viz., 7 Assistant Engineers, 9 Supervisors and 5 Overseers in the year under report to cope with the work.

2. The total capital expenditure on waterworks and sewerage works in the Province during the year under review amounted to Rs. 2,02,338 and Rs. 29,913 respectively against Rs. 3,85,029 and Rs. 56,678 in the previous year.

The total estimated cost of the schemes prepared by the Engineering Branch during the year was Rs. 14,33,203 as detailed below compared to Rs. 22,40,269 during the previous year:—

		Rs.
(1) Sketch Projects—
(a) Water-supply	.	3,72,141
(b) Drainage and Sewerage ...	...	1,57,472
(2) Detailed Projects—
(a) Water-supply ...	.	4,74,900
(3) Miscellaneous ...	. .	4,28,690
Total	...	14,33,203

Besides execution of 15 different works of Sanitary Engineering under its supervision and control, the department carried out certain other miscellaneous works at an expenditure of Rs. 18,965. The department also maintained the Kalimpong waterworks and the Maijdi water and drainage works; the latter one besides its normal supply of water to the Police lines and jail supplied water also to the Military camps at Maijdi.

The receipts of the department during the year amounted to Rs. 23,509, against Rs. 23,834 during the previous year.

3. As in the previous year there were 52 waterworks in operation during the year under report which supplied 19,011,261 gallons of filtered water to a population of 20,24,500.

The quality of drinking water supplied from the various waterworks was satisfactory.

4. Besides the routine duties carried out by the department under the rules regulating the management of sewerage and waterworks by local bodies, the departmental officers carried out the annual inspection of the various municipal waterworks and the reports containing the recommendations and remarks of the inspecting officers were forwarded to the authorities concerned for necessary action.

5. The A. R. P. Division which was created in August 1941 was fully engaged during the year in supervising the execution of the sanctioned Civil Defence schemes many of which were completed. The Executive Engineer in charge of this division was entrusted with the work of inspection of most of the sewerage and waterworks machinery which Messrs. Tolkart Brothers who previously did the work were unable to do during the year. The Division also supervised the sinking of 120 tube-wells within the municipal areas of Baranagor, Bhatpara, Halisahar and South Suburban. In addition, independent water-supply schemes for Government buildings, hospitals, jails, A. R. P. Depots, etc., were examined. The officers of the department inspected different vulnerable municipal areas and gave expert advice aided by demonstrations regarding measures to be adopted in case of damage to water mains, sewerage, etc., by enemy action.

2,497 A. R. P. tube-wells sunk in 1941 and 1942 in Calcutta were maintained by the department as in the previous year. It is, however, unfortunate that reckless driving of motor vehicles caused a large number of tube-well pumps to be knocked down and damaged and that pumps or parts of the pumps continued to be stolen during the year. The opportunity is utilised to impress again upon the public the necessity of their co-operating with Government towards checking this tendency to damage or steal public property. Unless there is a strong public opinion against these wrong doers and cases of damage and theft coming to notice are promptly reported to the proper authority there would be little hope of bringing about an improvement in the position.

6. Owing to the serious outbreak of epidemics of cholera and other water-borne diseases as an aftermath of the economic condition of 1943, it was considered necessary to make provision for supply of pure water throughout the province for drinking and other domestic purposes and it was accordingly decided to repair all derelict tube-wells and where possible to withdraw and resink them. The operation was restricted in the first instance to 16 districts of the province which were worst affected by cholera. The total cost on this account amounted to about Rs. 15 lakhs during the year.

It may be mentioned here that in order to improve the quality of work and to avoid the delay which tended previously to occur a new policy was adopted with effect from the year under review in the matter of distribution of the rural water supply grants, according to which funds both for supplying materials for repairing and resinking derelict tube-wells and for labour and other incidental charges are now placed at the disposal of the Chief Engineer, Public Health, who utilizes them for supplying materials to the districts and for making allotments for labour charges to the district officers.

7. The Sanitary Board held three meetings during the year under review and examined three projects of Sanitary Engineering before they were submitted to Government for sanction. The Board also considered the inspection report on the municipal waterworks at Dacca, Narainganj, North Chandpur, Khulna and Asansol and on the Dacca Sewerage and Sewage disposal works. The Board constituted a Central Drainage Sub-Committee to consider all drainage and irrigation schemes and a Vaccine Sub-Committee to investigate whether the methods of manufacture of vaccine undertaken at the Government and Calcutta Corporation laboratories are up to date and satisfactory and to suggest improvements both in the manufacture and application of procedure of immunisation and other allied factors. Another Sub-Committee was constituted to investigate the scheme for reorganisation of the rural public health services in the province.

8. The Board considered the summarised statements of water analysis reports and a report of the Superintendent, Maternity and Child Welfare, Bengal, on the present position of the maternity and Child Welfare organisation in Bengal.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF JUTE CROPS OF BENGAL, 1945.

[NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1942-43, the areas under Jute in the Provin of Bengal and the Indian States to which this forecast relates, represent some 10 and 1·5 per cent. respectively of the total area under jute in India.]

The preliminary forecast deals with the area and the condition of the cro at the time of publication of the forecast. It is not a forecast of the outturn With the coming into force of the Bengal Jute Regulation Act, the area show represents the total acreage for which licences have been issued which wi require modification in the ensuing final forecast in September next afte the examination of the jute lands under section 14 of the Act has been com pleted. In order to arrive at a rough estimate of the acreage likely to hav been sown the figures relating to the total licensed area checked up to dat and the area on which jute has actually been found to have been grown a also the acreage still remaining to be checked have been shown.

Area in 1945.—In Bengal (excluding the States of Cooch Behar an Tripura) licences have been issued for 2,546,925 acres as against 2,563,27 acres licensed and unchecked area shown in the preliminary forecast of 194 and as against 1,694,355 acres actually found to have been under the crop a returned in the final forecast of 1944. Out of the total licensed area o 2,546,925 acres an area of 438,180 acres has since been checked and 2,108,74 acres still remain to be examined. Out of the checked area jute has actuall been found to have been grown on 362,025 acres. Thus the percentage of th area actually found grown to the total area checked to date is 82·6 per cen and so far something like 17·2 per cent. only of the total licensed area ha been checked.

Character of the season.—Sowings generally commenced in normal time though at places, particularly in some West Bengal tracts, it was delayed due to drought. Weather conditions have generally been favourable although occasional drought interfered with the agricultural operations at places and affected the growth of the crop at its early stage.

Present state of the crop.—The present condition of the crop is satisfactory.

Stock.—Stock in the hands of the cultivators is small.

Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF BIHAR, 1945.

NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1942-43, the area under Jute in Bihar to which this forecast relates has represented some 7·6 per cent. of the total area under Jute in India.]

The present forecast deals only with the estimated area sown. It gives lso a general survey of prospects but makes no reference to the probable ıtturn either in percentage figures or in bales.

2. Acreage.—I estimate the area sown during the current and four receding years, in round numbers as follows:—

Year.	Acres.
1941	242,500
1942	232,900
1943	202,300
1944	162,900
1945	161,800

3. Weather conditions.—In March light rain fell in parts of all the ıte-growing districts of the Province and the fall was below the normal erywhere. The rainfall in April, however, was sufficient and above the ormal. In May the rainfall was light to moderate in all the districts.

4. District returns.—Last year's area under jute was finally estimated at 2,900 acres. The total area under jute this year is estimated by the District fficers at 161,800 acres. The decrease in area is mainly due to more area ing put under food crops and low prices of jute.

5. Condition and prospects.—The present condition of the crop is fair far.

6. General.—The quantity of jute, which remains in the Province from e crops of 1944, is reported to be little in the important jute-growing strict of Purnea.

The statement below compares the estimated area under jute in this ovince this year with the preliminary and final figures of last year:—

Calcutta, the 24th May 1945.

Final Forecast of Wheat Crop of Bengal, 1944-45.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1942-43, the area under wheat in Bengal, has represented some 0·5 per cent. of the total area under wheat in India. The ratio of irrigated wheat acreage to total wheat acreage (a) in British India and (b) in Bengal, has, in the five years ending 1942-43, averaged (a) 47·9 and (b) 7·2 per cent. respectively.)

Character of the season.—Since the submission of the third forecast, the weather condition and its effect on the crop have been fair. Some damage was caused to the crop at places mainly due to drought and also due to fungus diseases and hailstorm in certain districts.

Acreage.—According to the estimates of District Officers, the total area sown this yea 168,400 acres as against 192,200 acres last y The decrease in area is mainly due to wan moisture in the soil at the time of sowing. Tl was practically no rainfall from the latter par October to the end of December. This adver affected the progress of sowing and growth of crop.

Outturn.—The provincial outturn, on the b of the District Officers' estimates, works out t per cent. of the normal as against 80 per cent. year.

Taking the normal yield to be 9 maunds acre the gross yield of the crop for the provi is estimated at 39,500 tons this year as aga 50,800 tons last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL

FINAL FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF BENGAL, 1945.

OTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1943-44, the areas under jute in the Province of Bengal and the Indian States of Cooch Behar and Tripura to which this forecast relates, represent some 81·3 and 1·5 per cent., respectively, to the total area under jute in India.]

Season.—Occasional droughts and a weak monsoon hampered the full rformance of the crop in general. The crop in the North and East Bengal s, on the whole, done fairly well, but the drought seriously affected the p in some West Bengal tracts where steeping water is also reported to insufficient.

Area.—The area under jute of 2,017,710 acres is the licensed area after mination of the lands for which licenses were issued but which were t actually sown as disclosed on an examination of the jute lands under tion 14 of the Jute Regulation Act.

Outturn.—As in the previous years, the percentage figures are calculated the basis of the Divisional normals which remain as follows:—

	Bales per acre.
Dacca and Chittagong Divisions	... 3·7
Rajshahi Division	.. 3·5
Presidency and Burdwan Divisions	.. 3·2

The total yield of the crop is estimated at 6,303,550 bales of 400 lbs. each the Province.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BIHAR

FINAL FORECAST OF THE JUTE CROP OF BIHAR, 1945.

NOTE.—On an average of the five years ending 1943-44, the area under jute to which the Bihar forecast relates, has represented some 7·2 per cent. of the total area under jute in India.]

Acreage.—The final returns of the jute-growing districts in the Province ow that the area under jute is 158,900 acres as compared with 162,900 acres st year. The decrease in area is mainly due, as already stated in the reliminary Forecast, to greater areas having been put under food crops in urnea.

Weather condition.—In March rainfall was very deficient and below the ormal in all the jute districts In April, however, rainfall was above the ormal everywhere. In May also rainfall was above the normal except in e district of Bhagalpur and the Santal Parganas. Rainfall in June and ly again was deficient and below the normal everywhere.

Outturn.—This deficient rainfall has the adverse effect of reducing the tturn of the crop to 39 per cent. in the most important jute-growing district Purnea. The outturns in Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga, Bhagal-ur, Saharsa and the Santal Parganas, however, remain at 85, 65, 59, 65, 69 d 67 per cent., respectively, of the normal.

Accordingly I estimate that the outturn this year will be 42 per cent. of e normal as in the last year. Taking the normal outturn to be $3\frac{1}{3}$ bales r acre the gross outturn of the crop from 158,900 acres is estimated at 0,000 bales as compared with 230,200 bales last year. Adding 14,500 bales this as probable imports from Nepal, the forecast figure for Bihar comes 234,500 bales.

The area reported is the preliminary forecast has been revised in all the districts except Darrang and the Garo Hills.

Outturn.—The average outturn per acre has been estimated to be 87 per cent. of the normal against 51 per cent. (revised on the basis of actual area) of last year. On the basis of the normal yield of 3·3 bales of 400 lbs. each per acre the total production of the Province is 520,700 bales against 324,000 bales (revised on the basis of actual area) of last year or an increase of 5 per cent.

Cachar (Plains) ..	300	400	300	75	90	1,000	900	Last week of August. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to unfavourable weather condition at sowing time. Slight damage has been done to the crop by flood and hence the outturn is anticipated to be a little below the normal.
Sylhet ..	40,200	24,200	25,600	65	75	56,600	69,100	Middle of August. Normal.	The increase in area is due to comparatively high price of jute. The weather was favourable at sowing time but towards the later part it became unfavourable. Flood also caused certain damage. These account for the low estimated outturn.
Goalpara ..	90,000	58,000	58,200	40	90	69,600	157,100	First week of July. Normal.	The increase in area is due to favourable weather condition at sowing time. But subsequently heavy and continuous rainfall checked the growth of the crop to some extent. Considerable damage has also been done to the crop by recent flood. So the outturn is expected to fall below the normal.
Kamrup ..	61,000	44,300	36,000	65	90	97,900	110,200	Middle of August. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to substitution of paddy for jute. The weather at the sowing time was favourable but later on, the weather proved a bit rainy which affected the growth of the crop. The recent flood also caused considerable damage. So the outturn is anticipated to be a little below the normal.
Darrang ..	21,600	16,900	11,700	40	100	23,700	40,900	First week of August. Normal.	The decrease in area is due to increase of paddy cultivation due to Grow More Food Campaign. Weather [illegible]

							First week of August Normal	The decrease in area is due to taking more lands for paddy cultivation. Weather was generally favourable for the crop. Slight damage was caused to the crop by flood. So the outturn is anticipated to be a little below normal
Sibsagar ..	700	1,100	1,100	60	80	1,700	2,300	First week of August Normal.	The weather was generally favourable for the crop. But subsequently heavy rainfall checked the growth of the crop. Flood also caused considerable damage. So the outturn is expected to be below the normal.
Lakhimpur ..	3,000	2,100	3,200	75	90	6,300	11,500	Middle of July. Normal.	The increase in area is due to favourable weather condition. SUPPLEMENT—Official Papers.

PARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 10th August 1945.

t Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal for 1945-46.

t.—On an average of five years ending 1943-44, the area under cotton in Bengal to which this forecast relates, has represented some 0·3 per cent. and that in the Bengal State some 0·1 per cent. of the total area under cotton in India).

here are two varieties of cotton, early and late. early crop is chiefly grown in Chittagong l-tracts and in the Tripura State and to a small nt in other districts. The late crop is grown small areas in Bankura, Midnapore and mensingh.

Character of the season.—The weather condition and its effect on the growth of the crop have been favourable and the present condition of the crop is fairly good.

Area sown.—The total area sown this year under early cotton is reported to be 117,310 acres as against 107,128 acres and 107,028 acres respectively in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year. No area has so far been sown with the late variety this year. The area under this variety was 60 acres last year as reported in the final forecast of that year. The increase in area this year as compared with that of last year is due to high prices of cotton and favourable weather conditions at sowing time.

F. ISLAM WAHEED,

Calcutta, the 30th October 1945.

Deputy Director of Agriculture (Headquarter

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL

Calcutta, the 6th October 1945.

First Forecast of the Winter Rice Crop of Bengal for 1945-46.

Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1943-44, the area under winter rice in Bengal has represented some 21·1 per cent. of the total area under winter rice in India.)

Character of the season.—Drought in the earlier part of the season adversely affected the sowings and growth of broadcast amon paddy in many places. The raising of amon seedlings was also hampered in some districts due to insufficient rainfall in June. Transplantation generally commenced in July, but the progress was slow for want of sufficient rainfall. In August, however, the conditions improved in many districts, but the rainfall was still inadequate in almost all the districts of West Bengal, specially in Burdwan Division. As such transplantation in those districts was delayed and considerable areas could not be brought under cultivation. A little damage to the crop was also reported from some parts of Rangpur, Bogra, Pabna, Mymensingh, Dacca, Tippera and Noakhali due to flood, which affected the progress of transplantation as well. The flood water, however, receded quickly. The occasional showers towards the end of September have been beneficial to the crop everywhere and the crop of the affected areas is reported to be improving.

The present outlook of the crop, for the province as a whole, may not be regarded as unfavourable.

Acreage.—The total area under winter rice this year is estimated to be 19,605,300 acres as against 20,798,300 acres (revised) of last year as discovered as the result of plot to plot crop survey conducted by the Development Commissioner, Bengal, in 1944-45 and against 18,325,200 acres shown in the corresponding forecast of last year.

Outturn.—The outturn for the province is expected to be 81 per cent. of the normal this year as against 85 and 80 per cent. of the normal respectively reported in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year, provided there is sufficient rain in October.

N. M. KHAN,
Director of Agriculture, Bengal.

Department of Agriculture, Bengal

Calcutta, the 8th October 1945.

reliminary Forecast of the Bhadoi Crops of Bengal for 1945-46.

ote.—On an average of the five years ending 1943-44, the area under autumn rice in Bengal has represented some 8·2 per cent. of the total area under rice in India.)

Character of the season.—In the beginning the ason was not quite favourable everywhere due to sufficient and uneven distribution of rainfall, hich delayed sowings and retarded the growth of ops, at places. Subsequent showers proved neficial to the crops in East and North Bengal d some of the West Bengal districts. Sowings, nsplantation and the growth of crops were versely affected in the remaining districts of est Bengal, specially in Burdwan Division due continued drought. As such, certain areas in se districts could not be cultivated with aus ddy. Some damage was reported from a few tricts due to flood and excessive rainfall at the e of harvest. The prospects of crops, for the province as a whole, may, however, be regarded as not unfavourable.

Acreage.—The total area sown with different bhadoi crops this year is reported to be 7,342,300 acres as against 8,873,800 acres and 8,887,900 acres (revised) respectively shown in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year. Of this the actual area under autumn rice is 6,671,500 acres as discovered by plot to plot crop survey conducted by the Development Commissioner, Bengal, this year. The area under autumn rice was estimated at 8,016,500 acres and 8,084,000 acres respectively in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year.

Outturn.—The outturn of different bhadoi crops for the province is estimated at 83 per cent. of the normal as against 82 per cent. shown in both the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year. The outturn of autumn rice is estimated to be 84 per cent. of the normal this year as against 82 per cent. shown in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 17th October 1945.

Second Forecast of the Sugarcane Crop of Bengal for 1945-46.

(Note.—On an average of the five years ending 1943-44, the area under Sugarcane in Bengal has represented some 7·9 per cent. of the total area under sugarcane in India.)

Character of the season.—Since the issue of the first forecast in August last, the weather and its effect on the growth of the crop have, on the whole, been favourable, though the crop of some West Bengal districts has been adversely affected to some extent due to inadequate rainfall. The present outlook of the crop for the province may be regarded as hopeful.

Area planted.—The total area planted with the crop is estimated at 323,500 acres this years, as against 306,000 acres and 309,700 acres reported the corresponding and the final forec respectively of last year.

Outturn.—The average outturn of the crop the province works out to 76 per cent. of the nor this year, as against 83 per cent. and 72 per ce respectively shown in the corresponding and final forecasts of last year.

Condition figures.—The outturn is estimated 76 per cent. this year as against the 10 ye average of 82 per cent. This means the condit of this year's crop is equal to 92·7 per cent. of ten years' average.

The current year's acreage is greater than t of the last year by about 4·5 per cent. The crease is mainly due to high price of gur a sugar.

Director of Agriculture, Beng

CTORATE OF AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Calcutta, the 10th October 1945.

Forecast of the Cotton Crops of Bengal for 1945-46.

—On an average of the five years ending 943-44, the area under cotton in Bengal has epresented some 0·3 per cent. and that in ie Tripura State some 0·1 per cent. of the otal area under cotton in India).

re are two varieties of crops, early and late. rly crop is chiefly grown in the Chittagong racts and the Tripura State and to a small in other districts. The late crop is onally grown on very small areas in ura, Midnapore and Mymensingh districts.

Character of the season.—Sowings generally commenced in normal times under favourable weather conditions. Since the issue of the first forecast in August last, the weather has not been so helpful to the growth of the crop in the Tripura State; but in the Bengal districts it has been quite favourable and the prospects are satisfactory.

The area sown.—The area sown this year with the early variety is reported to be 117,343 acres (revised), as against 107,128 acres and 107,000 acres, respectively, shown in the corresponding and the final forecasts of last year. No area has so far been cultivated with the late variety this year. The area sown with this variety was 60 acres in Mymensingh district last year, as shown in the final forecast of 1944-45.
